OIL PROMOTERS ARE INDICTED

4 Oil Companies, 10 Brokers and 50 Individuals Named by Federal Grand Jury

Accused of Using Mails to Defraud Investors Out of Millions of Dollars

NEW YORK, June 23.—Four oil companies, ten brokerage houses and about fifty individuals have been indicted by the federal grand jury on a charge of using the mails to defraud investors out of millions of dollars it was learned today, when seals on the indictment were ordered broken. Federal agents in cities throughout the country are now engaged in rounding up the men indicted. They are charged with having made gross misrepresentations regarding oil properties, and with paying dividends out of money obtained from the sale of stock.

LAWN PARTY AT KASINO

Ideal Weather for Annual Event by St. Margaret's Parish

Ideal weather, most suitable for an affair to be held out of doors, added materially to the success of the tenth annual lawn party of St. Margaret's parish which got under way this afternoon at the Kasino and its surrounding grounds in Thorndike street.

A hustling corps of officers and committee had arranged an excellent program for the occasion. A notable feature this year was an elaborate midway with its series of attractively decorated booths presided over by energetic young people.

This afternoon's program was devised mainly for the enjoyment of the children of the parish and consisted of entertainments and folk dancing the latter under the direction of Miss Catherine Whelan Conroy.

This evening there will also be feature dances as well as general dancing to start at 9 o'clock. Hon. John J. Mitchell, collector of internal revenue for Massachusetts, is expected to be the guest of honor this evening.

A large number of the young people of St. Margaret's parish as well as many from the other parishes of the city were present this afternoon to enjoy the various attractions. The program of fancy dances with those participating was as follows:

Rose Dance—Kathleen Murphy, Gertrude Bourke, Lena Sherburne, Catherine Ryan, Irene Flynn, Marion Barrett and Helen Hennessey.

Butterfly Dance—Janet Markham Rita Flynn, Bobby Flynn, Helen Cheney, Dorothy Duggan, Winifred Larkin, Lillian Connell, Avis Hollis

STRIKE HALTS COAL MOVEMENTS

Both Production and Shipments of Hard Coal Threatened by R. R. Walkout

Conflicting Reports on Numbers Quitting and Returning to Work

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—Effects of the railroad yardmen's strike have reached the coal region and it was said today that both production and shipments of hard coal would be at a standstill unless there is a speedy improvement in the situation. Reports from Pottsville and Reading said large numbers of Reading railway men have joined the walk-out. Harrisburg, Tanawaka, and other up-state points also report accessions to the strikers' ranks. At Harrisburg an embargo on all freight except perishables and coal, is in effect on the Reading lines.

Strike leaders continued today to claim that all three lines entering Philadelphia were effectively tied up so far as the movement of freight was concerned. Officials of the Pennsylvania and the Reading denied this and declared that most of the strikers' places had been filled. The Baltimore & Ohio said only 60 men were out in its local yards.

Strikers Deny Charge

BALTIMORE, June 24.—Striking railroad men in Baltimore, angry over the statement issued by G. W. W. Hanger, of the railroad labor board, that the cause of the present walkout was the fight of labor organizations among themselves, met last night and passed resolutions denying Mr. Hanger's statement, and giving their own reasons for their dissatisfaction.

"The cause of the men quitting work," the resolution states, "was inadequate wages, intolerable working conditions and repeated disappointments over the failure of the labor board to make a decision in regard to the railroad men's wages."

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION

Class of 262 Awarded Diplomas at Annual Exercises at Keith's Theatre

Hon. Jeremiah E. Burke Speaker of the Evening—Many Novel Features

The Lowell High school sent forth a class of 262 young men and women endowed with the splendid attributes of that institution's course of training, at the annual graduation exercises held last evening in Keith's theatre before an audience that completely filled the large auditorium.

Always an inspiring event in the city's educational calendar, the 1920 exercises seemed more impressive than ever, due perhaps, to the fact that the graduates who received their

ANNUAL BASKET PICNIC

By Notre Dame Alumnae Association Held in Tyngsboro This Afternoon

The Lowell Notre Dame Alumnae association, uniting with alumnae from the Roxbury and Fenway academies, held its annual basket picnic at the grounds of the Notre Dame sisters in Tyngsboro today and with perfect weather available, there was every inducement for one of the most enjoyable affairs of its kind that the association has ever sponsored.

Well over a hundred members went to the grounds late this morning for the opening of the day's activities. They were received by a hospitality committee headed by Mrs. Joseph Donohue, president of the Lowell association; Mrs. John Jackson, president of the Roxbury association, and Miss Martha Logan, president of the Fenway association.

The morning was given over to sojourning about the vast area of meadowland and pine groves that are embraced in the well appointed grounds. At noon patriotic exercises were held in the open air with community singing a feature. Miss Alice Saunders was chairman of the music committee. A basket luncheon was later enjoyed. The committee on refreshments included Miss Mary and Miss Marjorie Marren.

During the afternoon a program of sports was carried out and included a boat race, baseball game, automobile race and personally conducted hike about the grounds. Miss Alice Walsh, Miss Mollie O'Sullivan and Miss Rose Joyce were in charge of the sporting events. Later in the afternoon a business meeting was held and the day's program closed with benediction at the grove of the Sacred Heart.

Londonderry Faces Starvation. Britain to Appeal For Reservists. Delegates Pour Into San Francisco. Suffrage Forces Turn to Tennessee.

MORE BRITISH TROOPS ARRIVE

Ordered to Londonderry in Attempt to Halt Civil War in Progress for Week

Many Shot Down During Fierce Fighting in Street—Reign of Terror

LONDONDERRY, June 24.—More British troops have arrived in this city and their greater activity in efforts to protect life and property has had a quieting effect. Only occasional shots were heard after midnight this morning. Two snipers have been arrested by the soldiers.

Besides actually attacking snipers with armored cars and machine guns, the troops have done much rescue work. When it was reported last night that the Sinn Feiners were about to attack a cluster of houses, armored cars were rushed to the scene and the troops removed terrified women and children to a section of the town where nationalists predominate. The gas works also have been protected by armed men.

The gas supply ceased at 5 o'clock this morning, and the inhabitants in some sections were left in a serious plight without fuel, light, or bread. Portions of the outlying districts are being patrolled by Ulster volunteers while nationalist volunteers were guaranteeing their section.

REIGN OF TERROR

LONDONDERRY, June 24.—Terror held sway here yesterday and last night, rifle and machine gun fire sweeping the streets in the fiercest fighting to develop thus far in the civil war which began last Friday between unionist and nationalist forces. The number of men killed and injured has not been determined, as it has been impossible to reach the scene of the battles in Bishop, Cross and Bond streets. It is believed, however, that there were scores of victims. Hospitals are taxed to their capacity

British War Office to Make Immediate Appeal for Reservists

LONDON, June 24.—The war office intends most immediately to appeal for reservists, according to the Daily Mail today. The newspaper says it probably will ask for discharged soldiers and men who served for at least one year during the war and have not since joined the territorials, to enlist in the army reserve. "The decision," the Daily Mail continues, "is due to the serious view taken by the military authorities of the situation in the near and middle east, a situation which it considers necessitates an increase of 15,000 to 20,000 to the strength of the army reserve."

Ryan Expelled From Stock Exchange

NEW YORK, June 24.—Allan A. Ryan, chairman of the Stutz Motor company, who became involved in a controversy with officials of the New York Stock Exchange at the time it was alleged a corner existed in Stutz, has been expelled from the Exchange, according to an announcement today by the board of governors.

Threat Against Life of Cardinal Logue

DUBLIN, June 24.—Cardinal Logue, Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of Ireland, declared while speaking at Maynooth college yesterday that he had "received warning, his time was set." The cardinal declared that he was grateful for the warning because it "gave him time to prepare," and added: "I have always tried to do what I could for my country and have never consciously said a word to offend anybody, no matter what was his religion or politics. If I come to a sudden end there will be no justification for those responsible." No indication of the source of the warning was given by the aged cardinal.

TO RATIFY SUFFRAGE AT HARVARD COLLEGE

Government Says Tennessee Legislature Has Power Without Referendum

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Assistant Attorney General Friereson, has advised Gov. Roberts of Tennessee that the legislature of that state could ratify the suffrage amendment without submitting the issue to the people.

Suffrage Hopes Rally

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 24.—Suffrage hopes rallied today when it was learned that Governor Roberts planned to call a special session of the legislature to act on the Federal Suffrage Amendment, following receipt of a telegram from President Wilson urging such action in the interests of "real service to the party and the nation."

PARTY LEADERS REACH 'FRISCO

Sen. Glass and Tammany Leader Murphy Arrive for Democratic Convention

Bryan Still Missing—"Wet" Issue Continues to be Subject of Discussion

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—Preliminaries to the democratic national convention got into the inevitable hurry and bustle today with the appearance of men who are to take leading parts in the quadrennial drama. In the whisperings behind the scenes, the question of the party's policy toward bone-dry prohibition continued the big theme of agitation, with prospects increasing for a fight on the convention floor. Arriving leaders and delegations also added some impetus to the discussion of the presidential candidates, but that subject still remained well in the background.

Two newly arrived figures attracted particular attention. One was Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, fresh from Washington and generally reported to have brought President Wilson's own draft of the platform. The other was Charles E. Murphy, of New York, the leader of Tammany hall, who came direct from the widely-heralded conference of old-line party strategists at French Lick, Ind.

Both of them were busy, but silent. Privately they took careful stock of the situation and conferred earnestly with leaders from far and wide. Publicly they refused to talk politics. Mr. Murphy was the new center of speculation on the subject of prohibition. The declaration of the New York state convention for the repeal of the 18th amendment and widely circulated reports of the patching of an anti-bone dry plan at French Lick helped to bolster the impression among many delegates that Tammany would lead in the effort to write such a plank into the platform.

Taggart Expected Today

Not only the Tammany chief but all of his lieutenants refused steadfastly to discuss that subject or to say whether any anti-prohibition movement really had been launched at the French Lick conference. Thomas Taggart of Indiana, another principal in the conference was expected to arrive here late today or early tomorrow, but it was generally predicted that the lines of division on the prohibition issue would not be clearly drawn until the convention actually gets under way Monday. One element intended to keep the problem in flux was the uncertainty of many of those here regarding the position of President Wilson. The Virginia state platform, which has been the president's unqualified approval and on which the platform is expected to be modeled is silent on the subject. Some of Mr. Wilson's close friends in the administration, however, are known to have prepared a liberalization plank for which they are ready to fight in the convention.

APPEAL BY WIRELESS

Local Wireless Amateur
Catches Message From
U. S. Dept. of Agriculture

Seeking the co-operation of the Boy Scouts in the work of food production, Secretary Meredith of the United States department of agriculture sent out an appeal by wireless from the Boston naval station last night which was picked up by Arthur S. Davis, of 29 Holden street, a wireless amateur and member of the Lowell Radio club who has a powerful receiving radio set at his home.

As the boys of the radio club are nearly always at their instruments listening in on the air "buzzes" they say that this message was the first of its kind they have received. The implication to the scouts was as follows: "America needs your help in food production in gardens and on farms. You can do your country no better service than to show now, through your efforts, your ability to become productive citizens."

LOWELL MAN TREASURER AND INCORPORATOR

Special to The Sun
STATE HOUSE, Boston, June 24.—Timothy J. The capital stock of the company is $25,000, consisting of 500 shares of preferred stock of the par value of $50 each, and 600 shares of common stock, without par value.

The officers and directors of the company are: Charles T. Baxter of Somerville, who subscribes for 125 shares of preferred and 120 shares of common stock, president; Timothy Coffey, who subscribes for 125 shares of preferred and 120 shares of common stock, treasurer; Frances H. James of Lynn, who subscribes for 125 shares of preferred and 120 shares of common stock, clerk; and George A. Merrill of Roxbury, who subscribes for 125 shares of preferred and 9 shares of common stock.

LOWELL CASES IN SUPERIOR COURT

Lowell cases disposed of at yesterday's criminal session of the superior court at East Cambridge were as follows:

Joseph Snay, charged with receiving stolen property and violation of the jitney laws regulations, was found guilty on both counts and was ordered to pay fines of $20 and $10.

Matthew J. Mevis, charged with the larceny of $600 from John M. Gallagher was placed on probation after it was announced that full restitution had been made. Mevis was employed as a conductor for the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company in this city and while riding to the car barn some time ago he is alleged to have stolen a bag containing $600 which had been left behind by Gallagher, another employee of the company. Mevis was found guilty of larceny at the last session of the superior court, but sentence was postponed until yesterday.

Charles W. Lombard, charged with assault and battery on his wife and also on Frederick A. Bond was found guilty on both counts and a fine of $25 was imposed in the first case, while the second case was placed on file. The case of Henry J. Gingras, charged with larceny from Favreau Bros., which opened for trial Tuesday, was not finished at the time of adjournment yesterday and was resumed this morning.

BECHARD'S DEATH DUE TO GAS POISONING

Remi Bechard, aged 35 years, was found dead in his room at 19 Reed street late yesterday afternoon, death being due to gas poisoning. Miss Bertha Bechard, a daughter of deceased, detected the odor of gas at about 4:30 o'clock and traced it to her father's room and when she opened the door she found his body stretched across the bed, life extinct. Medical Examiner T. B. Smith after viewing the body ordered it removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Joseph Albert. Deceased was employed as a gate tender for the B. & M. and is survived by three daughters, Bertha and Yvonne Bechard of this city and Mrs. R. Sawyer of Boston; a son, Albert and a brother, William of this city.

A Friend Worth Knowing

We make many acquaintances, some of which develop into friendship, but not all prove themselves true friends. It is just as essential that we have a reliable friend in the form of a medicine as a personal friend, so that when we are afflicted with various ailments we can have something we can absolutely depend upon.

The next time you have any stomach, liver or kidney trouble, and you are not already acquainted with the wonderful merits of SEVEN BARKS, nature's remedy of roots and bark, we urge you to give it a trial, and we will predict that it will become one of your most valuable friends from a medical standpoint.

For nearly half a century SEVEN BARKS has been a valuable and timely friend to all sufferers of stomach and liver disorders. A trial will quickly prove its wonder efficiency, and after that you will never be without it and gladly recommend it to your friends.

Doctors' bills these days run into money fast, and can often be saved if you will but keep on hand a bottle of SEVEN BARKS, the old-fashioned remedy that our parents and grandparents used to keep their families rugged and well.

If you want a friend that will stand by you in time of need, ask your druggist for SEVEN BARKS. Price but 60 cents per bottle, enough to last a long time.—Adv.

THEIR ANNUAL ENTERTAINMENT

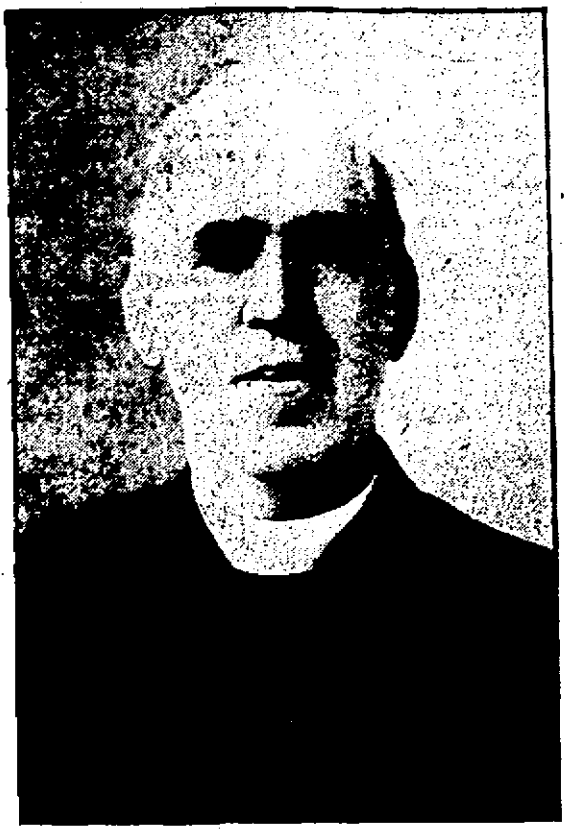

Excellent Program Given
by Pupils of St. Patrick's
Boys' School

Capacity Audience at Lowell
Opera House—Afternoon
Performance for Children

At the Lowell Opera House last evening a very large audience attended the exercises incident to the closing of St. Patrick's Boys' school. It was the 35th annual entertainment of the school which, under the guidance of Rt. Rev. William O'Brien with the Navelian Brothers as teachers, is yearly growing in importance and efficiency in educational work. The entertainment was chiefly musical and dramatic and it gave the members of the class an opportunity to display their talents in various lines. Their work was highly creditable not only to themselves but also to their devoted teachers. In the 2-act comedy presented, a degree of skill and smoothness that won great applause.

Last night's entertainment was for the benefit of the school-book fund and its success was quite gratifying to Rev. Brother Nilus, C.F.X., the principal, as well as to all the other teachers and friends of the school. Mr. Charles Norman Sladen was the musical instructor for the choir; Mr. John J. Quinn, dramatic instructor, and Rev. Brother Nilus, accompanist.

In its varied character, the program was all that could be desired, including as it did musical selections by the choir, solos, recitations, a musical comedy sketch, a cantata, a one-act comic opera, and a two-act comedy entitled "The Turn in the Road." All of the 23 members of St. Patrick's academy class of 1920 and the 35 members of the graduating class of the grammar school, had parts in the entertainment. Each year these exercises precede the presentation of the diplomas in the church on the following Sunday.

The boys of the fifth grade, dressed in overalls and large straw hats as Uncle Sam's farmer boys, were very pleasing and the Sinn Féiner's march by the boys of the sixth and seventh grades "carried the house" from the first appearance of the participants upon the stage. The recitation by Raymond McKenzie, the Dawn on the Irish Coast" and the solo by John Spillane, "My Wild Irish Rose," were very creditable numbers and, in fact, each and every number was excellent.

The young actors entered into the spirit of the comedy with a freedom of action and spontaneity seldom shown by players of their years. The audience applauded the young players and soloists to the echo.

The program:
Overture—Orchestra

a—The Song of the Vikings, E. Fanning
b—Jerusalem Chorus, Gailia, Gounod
Sanctuary Choir
Accompanist, William Paul McCarthy.
Uncle Sam's Farmer Boys, Fifth Grade.
Sinn Féiner's March, 6th and 7th Grades.
Standard Deader,
Master Leo Mann
Recitation,
Master Raymond McKenzie
Solo,
Master John Spillane.
"The Bogus School Inspector," one act comic opera, by Frank Booth, presented by Eighth grade, assisted by Messrs. E. Dean, T. Delmore, D. Powers and J. Keefe. Characters:
Col. Fig, Inspector of schools, Daniel J. Powers
Valet to Inspector, John Keefe
Mr. Pointer, school teacher, Thomas Delmore
Mr. Fetchman, school attendance officer, Eugene Dean
Johnny Stout, a fat, lazy school boy, Master Anthony Finn
Dunces and scholars, ready for examination, Eighth grade
Synopsis—This opera describes the adventures of a valet who impersonates a school inspector, which brings about some ludicrous situations.
Interlude—Orchestra
"The Turn in the Road," two-act comedy, R. Bridgman, presented by boys of second year commercial class.
Cast of characters:
Ezra Strong, best fellow in Colton, Raymond M. Connolly
Hobart Colfax, captain of the football team, Thomas F. Lenthian
Hiram Skinner, a Woodstock farmer, Daniel Hawkins, from the backwoods of Maine, Leo J. Heardon
Theodore Morris, Francis B. Clark

Members of Colton Fraternity:
Edward F. Murphy, William F. Ryan, Edward J. McDermott, Edward J. Sherry, Francis T. Hreen, Jeremiah J. Hanley Act 1—Strong's room, Colton University, Woodstock village.
Act 2—The same—one week later.

The marriage of Mr. Edward P. McLaughlin and Miss Catherine R. Donnelly took place last evening at St. Michael's rectory, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Francis J. Mullin. Mr. Samuel Wood acted as best man, while the bridesmaid was Miss Mabel O'Connor. The couple will make their home at 31 Third street.

The Pawtucket Congregational church in Pawtucket road was last evening the scene of a pretty wedding when Mr. Clarence Lewis Hildreth and Miss Grace Anna Mansfield, two well known young people of this city, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. A. G. Lyon in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Helen L. Mansfield as maid of honor, and Miss Marion M. Seaton as bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. Frederick W. Jordan. The ushers were Messrs. Alfred Cady, John Drescher, Edward R. Bailey and Jefferson R. Mansfield. At the close of the ceremony a brief reception was held at the home of the bride, 12 White st. and later the couple left on a wedding trip. Upon their return they will make their home at 20 Viola st.

Your Children Need Laxative!

The children need your closest attention, especially after "stufing" themselves with sweets, etc., at a party or the like.

They are liable to get up in the morning complaining of cramps, bad tasting mouth, liable to have puffed eyes from restless slumber; feel tired and cranky; distempored and whimpering. Act promptly! Give them a dose of Dr. J. C. Kellogg's Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, which millions of mothers were given by their parents, and who themselves are administering today, to their little ones. Only the purest of herbs are used—no harmful drugs—will relieve pleasantly the ordinary cases of children's illness, constipation—worms, etc.

Symptoms of Worms: Constipation, deranged stomach, swollen upper lips, sour stomach, offensive breath, and full belly, with occasional scrippings and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red spots sticking out on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

Mrs. Wm. G. Bonin of Caddo, Oklahoma, writes regarding Dr. J. C. Kellogg's: "We have used it for our children for the last 12 years, and certainly know the value of it."

For Interior Walls

Sanitary Flat produces on walls a beautiful, soft, velvety, flat surface, not equalled by the finest tapestry papers. It is the most sanitary treatment for interior walls, because it contains no poisonous colors, has no decaying paste underneath, and offers no lodging place for germs. It can be washed and it is easy to put on.

For children's rooms, nursery, kitchen, parlors, use Sanitary Glass Enamel, the twin sister of Sanitary Flat. Sanitary Glass Enamel produces an enamel-like surface which is ideal for the walls of the kitchen. It is provided in a number of delicate tints. Its hard, glossy surface offers no lodging place for dirt, and makes it extremely easy to clean. It will stand many washings. Like Sanitary Flat, it is lacking in any poisonous colors or pigment.

BIGGEST SHOW ON EARTH COMING TOMORROW

Well, youngsters, it's almost here. Sometime between midnight and dawn the big new circus bearing the strange yet familiar title of "Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined" is coming to town. The advance guard of the show states that all is in readiness for the invasion, while the juveniles have already set their alarm clocks for an unearthly hour. At the railroad yards switching crews are busy clearing tracks for the many show trains that must be taken care of when they arrive from Fall River.

Railway officials say the circus is far and away the biggest that has ever been transported over their lines. The trains will be met by the show agents who are in the city today making final arrangements for the coming of the "white tops." One of these is the "24-hour man." He will arouse the various superintendents and their men. Then will begin the tremendous task of moving the contents of the trains to the circus grounds. It is said that those who rise in time to watch this operation will witness the unloading of the greatest amount of paraphernalia and the largest number of wagons, horses and animals that have ever visited this city. The elephants number practically all the trained pachyderms in the circus world. A gigantic "super-herd" of these is used on the arena program. There are a total of eight giraffes. Herds rather than mere "families" of animals are now introduced in the menagerie.

The most beautiful ring horses and the heaviest and finest of the draught stock of the two circuses have been merged. The Percherons and Normans promise to be much in evidence in the street parade scheduled to depart from the show grounds at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. This procession, like all else connected with the new circus, is of greater length and brilliancy than any presented in former years. In addition to the scores upon scores of equestrians, the bands, the calliope and frequent tableau displays—without which a circus parade would not be a parade at all—are many distinct novelties. "Bigness" is the keynote of the parade and it is said that the elephant division is alone one of the most remarkable spectacles ever presented.

At the show grounds will be erected the biggest main-tent ever built. The increased size has been made necessary because of the additional number of players and the massiveness of the acts exhibited. One of the latter introduces five times as many elephants as have ever before been presented at one time. The menagerie tent is almost as large as the "Big top" of former seasons. This will be open to the public at 1 and 7 p. m. tomorrow. The main-tent program will begin at 2 and 8 o'clock. A gorgeous pageant will precede the arena displays. This enlists hundreds of characters and horses. The program of the big combined circus is made up of the best, finest and most sensational acts from the two famous shows supplemented by many foreign importations.

SEIZE STILL IN RAID AT BROOKLINE

BOSTON, June 24.—Officers of the Brookline police, with Morris Cronin of the department of prohibition enforcement, descended upon a three-family brick apartment house at 662 Washington street, in one of the better residential parts of Brookline yesterday afternoon, and seized a complete liquor still.

Patrick J. O'Toole, owner of the apartment house and occupant of suite one, was arrested by the officers, charged with a violation of the Volstead act. He was booked at the Brookline police station. Patrolman Harry H. McNeil of the Brookline department who investigated the case, being the complainant.

O'Toole was hailed by a friend last evening. He will be arraigned before Commissioner Hayes in the federal court, probably Friday.

The arrest of O'Toole and the seizure of the apparatus caused somewhat of a sensation in Brookline, occurring as it did in one of the better class apartment neighborhoods of the town. The house is part of a brick block near Washington street.

The officers who made the raid seized five barrels of mash and two and a half gallons of liquid which is described in the complaint as "fermented product."

A two-burner gas stove, six-gallon boiler, six-foot coil, three-foot goose-neck and a glass tester were among the material removed from a storeroom in the basement of O'Toole's house.

The contents of the five barrels of mash, 64 gallons in all, were dumped on the premises by the officers. Agent Cronin had all the other stuff shipped to the city. He is reported to have said the captured still was one of the most complete he has seen during his connection with the work of prohibition enforcement.

The discovery of the still and the arrest of O'Toole were both due to the persistent effort of Patrolman McNeil on whose route the apartment house at 662 Washington street is located.

McNeil's suspicions were aroused two weeks ago, when, as he was passing the house, he noticed a strong odor. From that time until the hour of O'Toole's arrest McNeil gave the premises special attention. He is a night officer and on his first and last watches he hung around the house, awaiting an opportunity to confirm his suspicions.

The patrolman felt convinced yesterday that the time was ripe for a seizure. He notified Chief H. Allen Buchanan. The chief notified the Federal authorities and Agent Cronin was sent out to go with the officers.

Chief Buchanan, Sergeant Holleran, Patrolman McNeil and several other officers, together with Agent Cronin, went to the apartment house shortly after 1 yesterday afternoon.

McNeil, who knew the premises, led the officers down a narrow alleyway to an opening into the cellar. Crossing this they got through a window into a light shaft, thence through another opening into the cellar of O'Toole's house.

In a far corner of the cellar was a storeroom, locked. The still was pulled out and there the officers found the still. The officers then went to O'Toole's apartment and placed him under arrest.

O'Toole has been a chauffeur, but it is said recently gave up this occupation. He has a wife and two children.

LOOKING AFTER POLITICAL FENCES

Edward B. Evans of Reading, attorney for the reclamation commission for the Lowell district, was in Lowell yesterday looking after political fences. He was busy in talking about the chances of reclamation projects at the public hearing which he said, he was here to attend. He was named one of the reclamation projects against over-irrigation.

Mr. Evans paid a visit to Harding as a man who wants well and who is ready to take the situation. He is of the type of man who will get things without claiming to be a politician.

Evans' position was made by the Evans family, who have been in the country since the crucial period of reconstruction.

Homely and Aged Faces
Now Easily Beautified

The plainest faces made beautiful and the complexions of good-looking women improved—oldish faces made young and pretty, blemished and weathered faces made spotless, white and shining—in less than two weeks, by a very simple and harmless process that acts almost like a miracle. This is all there is to it. Ordinary mercerized skin, procurable at any drug store, once used will do it. It is applied nightly like cold cream, and washed off mornings. This gradually peels off the lifeless particles of surface skin, permitting the underlying skin to show itself. The newer, fresher skin, when wholly in evidence, forms a complexion which for beauty and youthfulness is incomparable with one produced by other means. A complexion so natural, so free from artificiality, no one guesses the secret of its achievement. You'll never regret trying this really marvelous treatment.—Adv.

Homely and Aged Faces
Now Easily Beautified

The plainest faces made beautiful and the complexions of good-looking women improved—oldish faces made young and pretty, blemished and weathered faces made spotless, white and shining—in less than two weeks, by a very simple and harmless process that acts almost like a miracle. This is all there is to it. Ordinary mercerized skin, procurable at any drug store, once used will do it. It is applied nightly like cold cream, and washed off mornings. This gradually peels off the lifeless particles of surface skin, permitting the underlying skin to show itself. The newer, fresher skin, when wholly in evidence, forms a complexion which for beauty and youthfulness is incomparable with one produced by other means. A complexion so natural, so free from artificiality, no one guesses the secret of its achievement. You'll never regret trying this really marvelous treatment.—Adv.

MORE OF SISTER MARY'S OWN RECIPES

In the kitchen of her own home, Sister Mary cooks daily for a family of four adults. She brought to her kitchen an understanding of the chemistry of cooking, gained from study of domestic science in a state university. Consequently the advice she offers is a happy combination of theory and practice. Every recipe she gives is her own, first tried, out and served at her family table.

(Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.)

At first thought a cup of hot consomme or bouillon seems out of place in the summer diet. But when we think again and get down to brass tacks we see that the hot soup is really the best stimulant for a sultry summer day.

The digestive organs must be toned to the point where they will respond quickly to food. The hot soup does this. It also induces perspiration, which in turn causes evaporation. One of the most effective means of cooling the body is through evaporation.

After the digestive system is at work, cold food is readily assimilated and chilled salads and ices are not disturbing.

Menu for Tomorrow

Breakfast—Stewed dried apricots, poached eggs on toast, coffee.
Luncheon—Clam bouillon, toasted crackers, pineapple pie, tea.
Dinner—Halibut steaks, shoe string potatoes, stuffed green peppers, romaine salad, junket ice cream, sponge cake, coffee.

My Own Recipes

Halibut is delicious broiled, broiled, baked or fried. In hot weather the quickest way to cook meat or fish is the best. Fish cut in fillets crumbed and fried in deep fat is always nice to serve, but hot to prepare. Halibut broiled in the steak and brushed with lemon butter is a dainty morsel and appropriate for summer.

CLAM BOUILLON

4 quarts clams
3 cups cold water.

Wash and scrub clams with a brush, changing the water several times. Put in a kettle with the cold water, cover tightly and steam until the shells open. Strain through two thicknesses of cheese cloth. Serve very hot.

PINEAPPLE PIE

1 tablespoon grated pineapple.
1/4 cup sugar.
1 cup pineapple juice.
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 egg.

Let sugar, pineapple and juice cook for two minutes. Dilute cornstarch to a smooth paste with cold water and add. Cook, stirring constantly, until the whole is transparent. Add egg yolk well beaten. Turn into a baked pie crust, cover with the white of the egg beaten stiff and dry with 1 tablespoon of sugar. Brown in a hot oven.

The first United States bank was established in 1791.

Tone Up Your Stomach

There is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for every other part of the body. But the stomach depends, as does every other organ, on the blood for its energy.

There can be no perfect digestion without rich, red blood. This is scientifically true. The way then to tone up the stomach is to enrich the blood. If your digestion is off and your blood is thin there can be no question about it. You need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to restore the condition of your blood, use care in the selection of your diet and the stomach will take care of itself.

Stomach trouble is debilitating. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic and build up the blood generally.

Most stomach remedies try to digest your food for you. How much better it is to tone up the stomach so that it will do its own work as nature intended. There is no pleasure in eating predigested food. Tone up your stomach and your appetite and digestion will soon be normal.

A booklet, "What To Eat and How To Eat," which tells about this treatment, will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.—Adv.

1000 INDIANS WERE MASSACRED BY BRITISH

NEW YORK, June 23.—Firing by soldiers commanded by British army officers upon a crowd of unarmed natives of India who were seeking to present to a British deputy commissioner a petition for the release of two of their leaders led a few days later to the massacre of 1000 Indians trapped in a great square at Amritsar, in the Punjab district of India in the spring of 1919, says a report now made public by native investigators. The

Piles Are Absorbed Never to Return

Says Any Sufferer Who Tries Miro Internal Treatment Will Find This Treatment True

Mrs. E. Walhelen of Dayton, O., writes: "Regarding your wonderful discovery, Miro, I tried almost every kind of pile remedy on the market. I read about Miro and after taking one bottle can truthfully say I am entirely cured. There is no pile remedy on the market to compare with Miro. I can't praise it enough and the price is so small compared to its wonderful merits. Anybody afflicted with piles who tries a bottle will find this statement true."

The discoverer of Miro desires all sufferers to know that he doesn't want a cent of anyone's money unless Miro Pile Remedy conquers even the worst case and he has instructed druggists all over the country to guarantee it in every instance. Ask Fred Howard about it. He sells lots of it.—Adv.

report was prepared by the Punjab sub-committee of the Indian national congress. In its preparation more than 1700 witnesses were examined and depositions taken from survivors and relatives of the dead.

Dissatisfaction among the natives first became apparent with the passage of the Rowlatt bills, designed to punish rebellion.

All over the country resolutions were passed by huge mass meetings protesting against the law and demanding its repeal.

The trouble between natives and officials, the report states, began in earnest on the night of April 9, when two influential natives, Drs. Kitchlew and Saigopal, were arrested and their friends heard they were to be deported.

CALLS SUFFRAGE SESSION

Tennessee Governor Complies With President Wilson's Request

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 24.—Gov. Roberts of Tennessee announced last night that he would comply with the desire of President Wilson that a special session of the Tennessee legislature be called to act on the federal suffrage amendment.

The legislature will be called to meet, the governor said, in plenty of time to vote in the November election provided ratification of the suffrage amendment is completed through favorable action by Tennessee.

Good for Party

WASHINGTON, June 24.—President Wilson last night sent a telegram to Gov. Roberts of Tennessee urging that a special session of the Tennessee legislature be called to act on the federal suffrage amendment.

The President in his telegram said: "It would be a real service to the party and to the nation if it is possible for you under the peculiar provision of your state constitution, having in mind the recent decision of the supreme court in the Ohio case, to call a special session of the legislature of Tennessee to consider the suffrage amendment. Allow me to urge this very earnestly."

The state constitution of Tennessee has a provision prohibiting action by the state legislature on a federal constitutional amendment except when the legislature taking the action has been chosen at an election in which the proposed amendment was an issue. Some legal authorities have been quoted as holding that such a provision was invalidated by the supreme court's recent decision in the Ohio referendum case.

RECEIVED COMMUNION

The 1920 graduating class of the Sacred Heart school received communion in a body at the 7 o'clock mass at the Sacred Heart church yesterday and later enjoyed a communion breakfast in the school hall. Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I., the pastor, celebrated the mass and also spoke at the breakfast in company with other priests of the parish.

NO WHITE WAY FOR DAVIS SQUARE

Lack of funds will prevent the serious consideration of a petition from residents of the Davis Square section of the city for a continuation of the white way system of lighting in that vicinity. Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy says. He was to have held a hearing on the matter before the entire municipal council, but he says such action would be futile in view of the lighting appropriation which remains for the rest of the year. The commissioner believes that there is a very urgent need for improved lighting conditions in both that and other sections of the city and he will make an effort to have lights of some kind installed this year, but for the present, any further extension of the white way system is out of the question.

SAVES FUEL AND SUGAR

The problems of house-keeping in these troublous times are lightened by serving Shredded Wheat Biscuit, a real whole wheat food, ready-cooked and ready-to-eat. Contains the natural sweetness of the whole wheat berry with all the elements necessary to sustain strength at top-notch efficiency. Two of these crisp little loaves of baked whole wheat with hot milk or cream (or hot water and butter) make a satisfying, strengthening meal at a cost of a few cents.

EMBROIDERY AND THE VOILE FROCK

BY CORA MOORE

New York's Fashion Authority

NEW YORK, June 24.—Any summer afternoon should feel flattered by the appearance of this effective frock under its sunny sky.

It is cream-colored voile—very fine voile, to be sure, and it is embroidered in soft brown, a regular wood shade, with just an occasional thread of russet green. Silk of the same two shades along with the embroidered motifs are involved in making the belt.

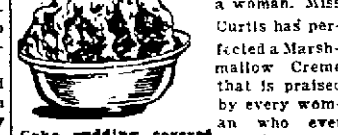

A cream georgette hat, trimmed with the wood-colored taffeta, is worn with this frock, and it's alluringly cool looking and very, very smart, even to the steeve ribbons.

Some African tribes pull their fingers until the points crack, as a form of salutation.

SURPRISE THE FAMILY WITH THIS DELICIOUS DESSERT

White Capped Dishes Look Tempting and Taste Better Than They Look

The daily question of what to have for dessert tonight has at last been solved and by a woman. Miss Curtis has perfected a Marshmallow Creme that is praised by every woman who ever used it.

Cake pudding covered with Snowflake Marshmallow Creme. The housewife no longer worries when she has a can of this wonderful Creme in the house. She takes a little sponge cake, spreads some Snowflake Marshmallow

Creme, and like magic she has a delicacy that will tempt the most particular. Perhaps there is nothing in the house but a little jelly or preserves; spread a little Creme, serve in individual dishes and you have another tasty surprise.

You can use Snowflake Marshmallow Creme on cereals, toast, griddle cakes, pies, cakes, prunes and in more than a hundred different ways. Send a postal with your name and address to Emma C. Curtis, Melrose, Mass., for the free booklet, "Desserts of Quality."

BUENOS AIRES

BUENOS AIRES, June 24.—The recently organized Buenos Aires post of the American Legion will be known as "Spencer Ely Post." Spencer Ely was the first American residing in Argentina to volunteer to serve his country in France and the first to fall of the Argentine contingent.

On his arrival in France, Ely joined the 16th regiment (the old fighting 15th of New York), and was killed at Chateau Thierry. After having been wounded in action he was carried to a dressing station from which he refused to be removed until more seriously wounded comrades had been taken to the rear. Before his turn came, the dressing station was blown up by a German shell.

Ely was a native of Flushing, New York and a descendant of General Schuyler, of the American Revolution. His family has resided in Buenos Aires for about 12 years.

70 BANDS IN LINE

Elaborate Floral Parade at Portland, Oregon

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 24.—The final session of the Imperial Shrine council brought to an official close today the annual celebration by the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, but most of the visitors remained for the annual Portland rose festival.

The crowning of the festival queen, an elaborate floral parade, and a massed band concert with 70 bands participating were on the day's program.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents)

THE STRAND

Viola Dana in "Dangerous to Men" is one of the most interesting and entertaining screen plays in which this popular star has ever appeared. It is adapted from the drama "Ella Goes to Town" and the screen possibilities reveal many entertaining phases of the story. Miss Dana appears as Eliza, the orphan girl who at 18 years is thrust into a household as his ward. She was an ugly duckling but she grew in charm until she was considered a beauty. It is a role that gives Miss Dana the real opportunity of her career. Few actresses can show such marked versatility as the star, first as a tom boy school girl and later as a dangerous siren. She has a capable cast assisting her.

Shirley Mason's newest film success is "Love's Harvest" and has to do with love and the stage in Paris and New York. First a girl finds herself the victim of her father's cruel legacy in being bequeathed like any piece of property to a man she had never seen; and later she has to choose between her obligations to a man who really loves her for herself alone. Miss Mason's impersonation is delightfully quaint, with moments of convincing seriousness and dramatic force. A new comedy and weekly is also shown.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Wallace Reid, noted humorist of the screen, features the program at the Merrimack Square Theatre for today, Friday and Saturday, in one of his most entertaining productions, "Sick Abed." Don't gather from the title that "Sick Abed" is a bad story. Wallis is the liveliest invalid that ever had a thermometer between his lips. According to the picture, he's just shamming illness to protect a friend who is mixed up in marital difficulties. And his sick room is as jazzy as a cabaret with pretty Bebe Daniels acting as his nurse. The picture for the week-end is Dorothy Gish in "Remodeling Her Husband," another entertaining production. A comedy, the International News and a Burton Holmes travel picture round out the bill.

OWL THEATRE

There is a complete change in program at the Owl Theatre for the latter half of the week. The main features will be two big photoplays, together with a splendid array of shorter reels, making one of the biggest and best shows in as cool and clean a theatre as you can find in the state.

The leading feature of the double bill is Lucy Cotton, late star of "The Mystery of the Yellow Room," in her latest photoplay, "Blind Love." The story is by Max March, author of "Eyes of Youth," and it is fully up to his best work. Don't fail to see it. The other feature will be Charles Ray in "The Pitch Hitter," a story of college baseball in which Charles has his ideal part that of a caddy country youth.

Have you entered the Kaleogram contest yet? The funny old bird soles five words, which make up the name of a star and a picture. It's easy if you look it over carefully, and you'll get two seats for the coming week. The attraction for this coming week, by the way, is Louise Glam in "Sex," a story that has received nothing but praise from the big town critics. It is starting layish and has a tremendous story to it. And the going worn in it are simply wonderful. The picture alone cost a small fortune. This attraction will stay all week.

Defies Age by Using Howard's Buttermilk
Cream for Complexion

This Pretty Girl Tells Drowsy Not to Take Any More Money Unless This Delicately New Vanishing Cream Quickly Shows a Decided Improvement.

Buttermilk Cream creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the dull, most lifeless complexion to a radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, cross feet or lines around the mouth, wavy finger nails, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream. Carter & Sherburne Co., Fred Howard, 151 Central St., can supply you. Manufacturer Howard Bros., Chemical Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

playing of "The Lowell High School March," written by the late Walter E. Owen and played at the high school commencement exercises more than a quarter of a century ago. The march had been presented in manuscript form to the school by Mrs. Owen, and many of the older people in the audience recalled with a feeling of pleasure the memories aroused by familiar strains.

every opportunity for immediate financial advancement in the outside world, as one of the evening's speakers pointed out, and also to the fact that a program embracing several novel features as well as all the anticipated numbers of bygone years was presented.

The orator of the occasion, Hon. Jeremiah E. Burke, assistant superintendent of Boston schools, brought out in language in which beauty and force vied for dominance, the need of linking the past and the present if the highest ideals of the republic were to be maintained, and this theme seemed to run through the evening's entire program. One of the most striking exemplifications of stepping into the past was the orchestra's girls who led their class in high character and scholarship, was another feature linking the past with the present, as Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, who presented the medals, explained. For years, these medals have been presented at each graduation and as each succeeding class sends forth its leaders to receive such awards, they immediately become members of a great company extending far into the past. The Carney medal winners this year were: Mildred Thelma Manning, Lorna Howes Shaw, Miss Jessie Sandler, Victor Brock Darling, James Warren Flood and Raymond Joseph Crowley.

Honorable mention for scholarship was awarded Alice Clark Bolton,

Grace Gertrude Sheehan and Harry Louis McDonough.

Washington-Franklin Medal

An entirely new feature of high school graduation programs was the presentation of a Washington-Franklin medal to the student who excelled in the study of American history during the year, by the Massachusetts society of the Sons of the American Revolution. Burton M. Wiggin, vice president of the society, presented the 1920 medal to Alice Clark Bolton, and explained that the purpose of the presentation was to foster the study of American history and the ideals which it embraces. Honorable mention was given the following for their work in this subject: Gertrude Teresa Fay, Mildred Thelma Manning, Nelda Laura Cross, Walter Edmund Mountain, Jr., Thomas Varium, Jr., Verda Elizabeth Huntley, Louise Adelaide Fay, Maurice Joseph Edward Powers, Anna Synchus Mulligan, Bruce Earl Kimball, Marie Crescence Parthenais and Gladys Vera Putnam. A similar medal will be awarded each year, from now on.

This year's class gift was a large silk American flag presented to the school on behalf of the class of 1920 by Francis Fay O'Donnell, class president. It was accepted by Chairman Thomas E. Delaney of the school committee, who said that he felt sure that the class of 1920 would ever remember the ideals of patriotism which the flag inspired.

Especially excellent this year, were the salutatory and valedictory addresses. Mildred Thelma Manning, salutatorian, chose for her theme, "The American Indian in the War," and brought to her declamation entire confidence, a well modulated voice and a depth of material that could have resulted only from persistent research. She told of the splendid part played by the Indian in the world war, both on the battlefield and on the reservations at home. The valedictory, "The Menace of Materialism," delivered by Victor Brock Darling, again brought out the excellent elocutionary training received at the high school under the direction of Miss Mary C. Joyce. Mr. Darling gave to a timely subject mature and well thought-out treatment. Mayor Perry D. Thompson for the third time had the honor of presenting the diplomas. He prefaced the presentation with congratulatory remarks to the parents of the graduates who, he said, were deserving of special felicitations because of the fact they had kept their children in school during years when the temptation to seek financial advancement in the outside world was most flattering. To the graduates he said that not only the hundreds who were present at the evening's exercises but hundreds of thousands all over the country were expecting much from them or from graduates like them.

Hon. Jeremiah E. Burke

Hon. Jeremiah E. Burke, the speaker of the evening, spoke on the topic, "Our Educational Heritage." He emphasized the need of linking the past with the present, of preserving the ideals of democracy established by the founders of the republic, of giving to children their rights, especially the right of an education.

In opening, he told of the old Irish legend of the great O'Donoghue, who died far from his native land and whose body was brought back and buried in an unfrequented glen near his beloved Killarney. There was a tradition, Mr. Burke said, that when his country should need him, O'Donoghue would rise and lead his embattled hosts against the enemy. That legend might seem strange and fantastic, he said, but it was true that the spirits of the great guide a nation and that the spirit of the past abideth in the present and guides the future.

"So in this period of reconstruction," he continued, "we must not forget our indebtedness to the past. There have been instances where nations have broken with the past with unfortunate results. The promoters of the French revolution, following the traditions of the past. They changed the names of the days of the week and installed a decimal system of counting days. The result was the reign of terror in France.

"On more recent days we have seen an illustration of a great nation for-

CHALIFOUX SPRINKLER SYSTEM TESTED

Chalifoux's water curtain formed by an outside sprinkler system was tested at 12:15 o'clock today, with Fire Chief Saunders and other department men on hand to watch it. The fact that the volume of water which fell to the pavement was sufficient to seep in through show windows attested to its efficiency. Try Magnesia for Stomach Trouble

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Promotes Food Fermentation, Bountiful Supply of Stomach and Acid Indigestion

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried peppermint, bismuth, soda, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble. In some cases do not even give relief. But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little bisulphated magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bisulphated magnesia, which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form. Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat. You will find that provided you take a little bisulphated magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the bisulphated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion. At High School Graduation getting the story of Alexander, of Caesar, of Hannibal, and bloated with power Prussia conceived the notion of building a state founded on militarism. Bismarck said that the schoolmaster was abroad in the land. It was true, but the schoolmaster was the servant of the state, obedient to the state, going the will of the state. As a result of his work, the German people came to believe that all nations were against them. The result was the perpetration of the great atrocities of the world war.

"The cause of the world war was the false philosophy and the false educational system of the German people. The founders of this republic did not break with the past. Back in the early days of the Mayflower compact the traditions of the past were remembered and the war of '76 was an evolution rather than a revolution. The colonists were then declaring only their rights as British citizens. In independence hall they proclaimed the old, old truth that all men and women are created equal—not equal or similar physically or in intellectual capacity, it is true—but equal before the law. Equality before the law has equality of privilege and from equality of privilege came forth equality of opportunity.

"Then our forefathers took another step. They said that all men were endowed with certain inalienable rights—life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Not the liberty given them by a kaiser, but the liberty that came from their Creator. These rights are God-like and belong to all. Nobody can take them from me nor I from anybody else. We hear a great deal in these days about the rights of men and the rights of women. These are right and proper and have our sympathy, but too few of us stand forth on the public platform and proclaim the rights of children—of boys and girls.

They are just as inalienable and God-given as the rights of men and women.

"What are these rights? They are the right to grow and develop, to acquire physical, intellectual and spiritual habits; the right to be trained under the most competent guidance to the highest possible position compatible with their ability to the end that they may perform their duties in society and enjoy to the full their privileges of freedom.

"Ideal, these rights are, you say, yes, and so are all rights ideal. But if you deny these rights to children, you are thwarting democracy.

"A child has the right to physical development so that he may be prepared for the storms and stress of life. He has the right to intellectual development that he may acquire the habit of right thinking and dispassionate thinking on the problems which may confront him—that he may have the great fourth dimension, the power of right thinking. The child has a right to spiritual and moral habits. He should possess integrity, sincerity, straightforwardness so that though he may err later in life, he will be brought back by the irresistible force of these habits to the harbor of safety.

"Boys and girls cannot acquire these habits overnight. They don't come like a morning dream or like a windfall. They must be built up by practice day after day until the child responds automatically to the beautiful things in life.

"Another step which the founders of this republic took was in the preamble of the constitution when they said something like this: 'To insure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and posterity we do ordain and establish this constitution of the United States of America.' They were wise, foresighted men. They saw the need of protecting our liberty. Liberty is not a warrior. Liberty is delicate and needs a protector, a champion on whom to rely. So our forefathers put liberty under the patronage and direction of law. But law may be amiss at times so our fathers set up three branches of government, the legislative, executive and judicial, each acting as a check on the other. These three great departments were set up to see that law protected liberty. But back of it all stands the will of the people and the voice of the people should be the voice of God. Sometimes, it is not, but it is true that in every great crisis the hand of God has seemed to point out the way and the people have reverently followed it. So long as the will of the people is in accord with the eternal laws of God, any man who raises his hand against constitutional authority injures not only his country but blasphemes the great Law-giver. Let us then protect the law. Here is where the teacher plays his or her part. It is the teacher who trains the will of the people." The speaker then told of what the teacher is doing at the present time to inspire the highest ideals of citizenship in pupils and how the heroes of the great wars of this country are being remembered in the school room. In closing, he said: "Let us have no

AN IMPORTANT DECISION

One of the most important court decisions handed down in a labor case for many years was that recently delivered at Rochester, N. Y., in the suit of Michael Stern & Co. against the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and Sidney Hillman, their president. It appears that the Amalgamated union organized a strike in the factory of the plaintiff company and made some very serious threats, one of which was, that the strike leaders would put the plaintiffs out of business and would not call the strike off until the company had turned over the keys of their factory to the Amalgamated union.

Another feature of the case was, that Amalgamated workers were in open conflict with the United Garment Workers of America and endeavored to oust the latter from any control in the plaintiff's factory. The court granted a permanent injunction against the Amalgamated, prohibiting the organization or any of its officers or members from calling strikes or picketing the shops of the plaintiffs or otherwise interfering with their legitimate business. In addition to granting this injunction the court ruled that the plaintiffs are entitled to collect damages from the defendant union, the amount to be determined in the trial of another suit. The firm had already sued for $100,000 damages.

This injunction suit was fought by able lawyers on both sides, and the decision promises to establish a precedent that will be quite as important perhaps as that of the Ducks Store and Range case, or in the still more celebrated case of the Danbury haters.

The decision at the present juncture is regarded as very important inasmuch as similar suits may be brought by corporations in other parts of the country to restrain unions from forcing their recognition upon manufacturers. The question of recognition of the Amalgamated union was the main issue that caused the original trouble complained of in the Rochester case. The outcome of the damage suit will be watched with interest.

LONDONDERRY RIOTS

One reason why Ireland is not self-governing is furnished by the Londonderry riots. In this ancient town, which cherishes above most other things the prejudices of a past that ought to be forgotten, the two political and religious factions are strong enough to engage in a pitched battle, the military forces of the British empire being powerless to restrain their sanguinary impulses.

The crux of the Irish question is the Irish. They have an alien government because they will not unite to govern in their own right. Separation from Great Britain is a delusion, of course, but home rule in adequate form obviously waits upon nothing but a demonstration of the capacity of the people to adjust their differences in good faith and to give the empire some assurance that self-government will not immediately degenerate into just such rapacity as we now witness in Londonderry.

To the person who does not know the real situation, the above statement would appear to be fair and accurate. It is a confirmation of the government claim which is hypocritical inasmuch as it is based upon the false charge that the Irish people cannot agree because the majority who want self-government and national freedom cannot agree with the unionist minority—about one-sixth of the whole—which is opposed to home rule or Irish freedom in any form.

Thus the charge that the Irish people cannot agree on a national policy is about as sensible as it would be to say the United States cannot agree unless all the other states allow the six little New England states to rule them absolutely in all that concerns their industrial well-being and their future destiny.

Now as to the cause of the riots, the despatches censored by the British authorities do not tell the truth. The real cause is, that the unionists were defeated by the Sinn Feiners in the recent local elections and as a result the Catholics who are well armed came out on some trifling pretext to shoot down the people who defeated them at the polls. The report that the government forces were powerless to cope with the situation is absurd.

of arms to the same extent as those of the other provinces. That explains why they were able to offer any defense to the volleys of the unionists.

When the unionists and the government forces have killed off a sufficient number of Sinn Feiners to wipe out the republican majority in the city, then the fighting will stop. Sinn Feiners in Londonderry have about as much consideration as do the negroes in one of our southern cities. That they elected one of their number mayor was regarded as an unpardonable offense; and the retribution comes in the volleys from unionist forces and government machine guns now strewn the streets with dead. In addition to being shot down in the streets, the Sinn Feiners will be blamed for starting the riots.

PHILIPPINE INDEPENDENCE

In this country at the present time is a very able delegation of Filipinos whose mission is to plead for the independence of their people. These men appeared before the republican platform committee at Chicago to present their claim for independence under an agreement or pledge of the United States, that the Philippines should have their independence just as soon as a stable government was established.

Under the Jones law enacted in 1916, a stable government has been established and the Filipinos have made splendid use of it. The progress of the people since the United States took charge of the islands has been remarkable. They have readily availed themselves of the educational opportunities, depending not only upon their own ancient university of Manila, but going to universities in this and other countries in order to bring themselves up to the level of the most progressive peoples in the world. In this respect they have succeeded to an extent far surpassing the expectations of Americans. They are truly grateful to the United States, but still they have a yearning for the day when they will be an independent and sovereign republic.

The democratic party in its platform of 1916 favored ultimate independence of the Philippine Islands. Indeed we believe that no political party has ever had any other intention. The only condition is, that the people shall be able to conduct their own affairs, capably, direct their government and fulfill all their international obligations.

Francis Burton Harrison who has been governor of the islands for six years has endorsed the claims of the people for independence, saying that they are fully competent and prepared to assume the sovereign control of their government and to direct their future destinies. The only difficulty in the way, apparently would be that there might be some doubt as to the ability of the islands to preserve their freedom against foreign aggression. To provide for their safety in this respect some international arrangement would be necessary similar to that enjoyed by Cuba or a protectorate agreed to by all the great nations.

The Filipinos may not secure their independence this or even next year but of this they may rest assured, that it is bound to come in the near future. Meantime they serve their own cause best by doing everything possible to promote the stability of their government together with the education and general prosperity of their people.

BACK TO NORMAL

A great many people are asking, "When will prices become normal again?" In the case of meat it is 20 pounds for $1.10, which is 18 or 20 cents a pound and the wages of a laboring man averaging about a dollar a day, it is doubtful if they ever return again. The world has seen a long way from the conditions that were familiar enough to people who are middle-aged today.

The word normal is after all a very relative. In its meaning it was once used to be able to pay commodities at the prices that have been named above, and it was also normal then for men to have to work for small pay, and altogether too often to go without an opportunity to work at all. If normal conditions mean conditions under which the laboring classes of people are constantly employed and are well-fed, well-clothed and well-housed, then the conditions of today are normal. There is no use trying to dodge the fact that probably never before has prosperity been so widespread as it is today.

There is a readjustment of values coming to be sure. There will be a slackening up of the wheels of industry from the speed with which they are now being operated. There will doubtless be a drop in wages and an increased purchasing power will come to the dollar.

A sign that perhaps the peak of high prices has been reached is to be found in the announcement that the balance of trade that has so long been against England is beginning to lie in an opposite direction. In May this year she exported nearly $250,000,000 more of goods than in the same month a year ago. The peoples of Europe are beginning to rehabilitate themselves and as they more and more become able to care for their own wants and export to the rest of the world the demand for the food products, raw material and manufactured articles of America will grow less. Then will doubtless come a drop in prices. We may well pray that it may come gradually.

TOO MANY LAWS

Speaking at the centenary exercises of the Harvard law school, Charles Evans Hughes said, "passion for legislation is not a sign of democratic progress," and referred to our tendency as a nation to pass too many and too uncertain laws as a "regrettable thing."

Year after year our state and national legislatures go on piling enactment on top of enactment apparently on the theory that if there is something in the community that demands a change or reform, that end can be secured instantly by passing a law. Then the law gets printed in the statute books and there, in altogether too many cases, it remains a dead letter.

Ten years ago the Massachusetts legislature passed a law governing certain phases of advertising stocks for sale. For a decade neither state officials nor stock sellers paid the slightest attention to the law. It was violated unnumbered times. Then a short time ago the attorney general, anxious to make a grandstand play, had a few Boston stockbrokers taken into the court under the act. They were given nominal fines by a judge, who stated from the bench that he could not regard as serious offenses that were charged under a law that had been in disuse for ten years.

Our own Massachusetts legislature, is said to pass more legislation every year than the British parliament which legislates for the whole empire.

We probably could not get along without our legislative bodies, but one cannot help wondering if we should not be just as well off if they would all refrain from enacting any more laws for a few years and give us a chance to digest and make some effort to enforce the laws we already have.

The two defeated candidates for the republican gubernatorial nomination in Maine say they will give the successful candidate their support, but from this distance and at this time it looks as though one, and perhaps both of them were getting ready to set the old grindstone in operation to sharpen the knives for use in September.

The Boston board of street commissioners says that what it calls "jay-walking in the streets" is the right of every free-born American and cannot be penalized. Nevertheless, the penalty often appears sooner or later in the shape of an accident in which the "jay-walker" gets the worst of it.

Nicholas Murray Butler, who says that he is "sorry for everyone who felt hurt" by what he said about General Wood's supporters being gamblers, stock manipulators and manufacturers of great wealth recently, might reflect that it is only the truth after all that usually hurts very much.

The republicans who are rejoicing over the possibility of factional differences developing at San Francisco might profitably recall General Butler's famous dictum, "The more fighting the more democrats."

Here's strength to the arms of the officials of the federal department of justice in their crusade against the "Reds"—the most dangerous of their kind.

Our newspaper neighbor speaks of Greenfield as being "proud of its distinguished citizen, Calvin Coolidge." What has Northampton to say about this?

Good and Bad

A poet, given to inspired moments at odd hours, provided himself with a bedside pad and pencil, and when a beautiful thought flashed through his brain would awaken his wife. "Wake up, Mary, I've thought of a good word."

One night the word turned.

"Get up, yourself, John," said the good woman. "I've thought of a bad word."

Wished Her Luck

The married woman at the wedding party wiped her eyes and grasped the bride's hands fervently.

"O, my dear," she said feelingly, "I only hope that Mr. Dinwiddie and you will be as happy as my husband and I are. Through all the 20 years of our married life we have continued to use to each other the dear little pet names of our engagement days."

Then the married guest went home and found hubby waiting for his supper.

"Amelia, my angel," he snapped, "it's about time you got home! I want some tea!"

"Don't you ever think of anything except eating, darling?" asked the wife, with a sour look.

"Don't talk like an idiot, little sugar plum; I'm hungry!" was the reply.

"Well, ducky, you've been hungry before, and I expect you'll be hungry again, so you needn't be disagreeable about it. And don't you dare call me an idiot, Suzykins, I don't like it."

As he spoke she grappled with a can of salmon which she was opening for his supper.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Eighty-five years ago today, with sun shining, people cheering and flags flying, the first train over the Boston and Lowell railroad made its trip from Boston to this city. It was a curious-looking train with its small cars built like stage coaches and its tin-kettle locomotive made in England and named George Stephenson. It brought its passengers safely to Lowell, however, in the comparative short time of an hour and a quarter and the fare was only 11. This was the first steam railroad in New England and one of the earliest to be opened in the United States. It was not, however, the first New England railroad. That had been opened some years previous, running from the granite quarries in West Quincy to tide water near the mouth of the Neponset river. It was built to transport the blocks of granite that were used in building Bunker Hill monument. Its cars were drawn by horses. Near the east Milton station of the West Quincy branch of the New Haven railroad there is now an interesting relic of the first railroad in America that can be seen by anyone who cares to take the trouble to visit the place. It is one of the granite frons, or cross-overs, that were used on the first railroad. Deep channels have been chiseled across the top for the wheels of the cars to run in, and there are bolt holes that indicate how the rails of strap iron were attached to the surface. This old frog was on exhibition at the World's fair at Chicago.

The recurrence of the subject of street maintenance and the condition of the city's thoroughfares at the present time featured the assembly, discussion at the chamber of commerce dinner Tuesday night in Memorial hall. In every instance it was the opinion of the speaker that the streets generally have never been in such poor condition. President Goodell voiced the only remedy, to our mind, when he said that some day the city of Lowell will have to go before the state legislature with the request to borrow money for street building if the roads are to be made navigable. As the streets stand today, one hardly can turn off Westford, Middlesex, Gosham or any number of other main thoroughfares without striking a roadblock that is piled with holes and dangerous to traffic. Chalmers Street from Westford to Stevens is in a deplorable condition and those who seek to avoid this stretch by going out Westford and turning into Stevens on that end, run into the same spring-breaking surface. With no permanent repair gangs at work and no money to build on, where are we going to end?

Mayor Thompson has had a much more difficult task selecting a properly qualified charter commission than most of us realize, I think. The restrictions placed upon him by the terms of the legislative resolve providing for such a commission necessarily made the job a slow one. In the first place, he had to choose one man from each ward in the city and then six at large. It happened that a dozen or more men excellently qualified for places on the commission by reason of their broad knowledge of municipal affairs and their lack of definite prejudice for or against any one form of charter all lived in the same ward. Of course, the mayor could not choose them all. In other wards he found a dearth of available material sometimes because the ward was made up largely of foreign-speaking residents. Another restriction placed upon the mayor by the resolve was that the commission be as nearly bipartisan in character as possible—that is, made up of seven members of one party and eight of another. This, at times, prevented an otherwise qualified man from being chosen. A self-imposed restriction which the mayor endeavored to follow out in choosing the commission was that nobody at present attached to city hall should have a place on the body who believed a more impartial attitude could be brought to the task confronting the commission by those outside the immediate pale of municipal activities.

JUDGE ANDERSON FREES 17 RADICALS

BOSTON, June 24.—Methods used by the federal department of justice in conducting the raids upon alleged alien radicals last winter were severely scored by Judge George W. Anderson of the federal district court yesterday in announcing his decision that 17 persons arrested in the raids and ordered deported were entitled to be discharged from custody.

The defendants, who included William T. Colyer and his wife, Amy, both of English birth, had brought their cases before the court through habeas corpus proceedings.

The deportation of the defendants was ordered by the federal department of labor on the ground that they were members of the communist party. Judge Anderson, in his decision said there was no evidence to show that the party advocated the overthrow of the United States government by force and violence. The chief dependence of the communists, he said, was upon the pressure of economic force, using the weapon of the general strike, and their purpose was rather pacific than militaristic.

"The communists," he added, "seek their ends neither by bullets, bombs, bayonets nor ballots."

Judge Anderson, commenting upon the methods of agents of the department of justice, in the January raids, referred to instructions received by the Boston bureau of investigation of the department, regarding the use of "undercover informants" and concluded:

"These instructions necessarily imply that the department had in these parties pretended members (of communist and communist labor party locals) having sufficient influence so that they could arrange to have meetings held on the night set for the raids. They show that the government spies were then active and influential in these prescribed parties; they were not mere on-lookers. The most that can be held is that it does not appear that the government did, through its agents, give form and color to the documents upon which the secretary of labor based his ruling. It is equally clear that no finding can be made that the government did not, through its agents, give form and color, and thus lay a foundation that the secretary of labor has drawn against these aliens because of their membership in the communist party."

"I cannot adopt the contention that government spies are any more trustworthy, or less disposed to make trouble in order to profit therefrom, than are spies in private industry, except in time of war. Spies are necessarily drawn from the unwholesome and untrustworthy classes."

Judge Anderson said that the evidence was explicit that "out of 410 persons arrested and taken to Deer Island (in Boston harbor) warrants for 100 were not at that time outstanding." He quoted testimony of the aliens to the effect that when arrested they were not asked whether they were American citizens and, that nobody showed any authority for making the arrests.

He said that the "practical result" of a change in rules of the department of labor regarding the rights of aliens "was to cut the alien off from any representation by counsel until the inspector, co-operating with or advised by the agent of the department of justice, was of the opinion that the hearing had proceeded sufficiently in the development of the facts to protect the government's interests."

Judge Anderson said that Assistant United States Attorney Lewis Goldberg, who said that the "practical result" of a change in rules of the department of labor regarding the rights of aliens "was to cut the alien off from any representation by counsel until the inspector, co-operating with or advised by the agent of the department of justice, was of the opinion that the hearing had proceeded sufficiently in the development of the facts to protect the government's interests."

at the habeas corpus hearings, "presented the government's side of the case with great ability," but that "no counsel from the departments in Washington has referred the slightest assistance on the law or the facts." He expressed appreciation of the efforts of Prof. Felix Frankfurter and Zachariah Chafee of the Harvard law school who, as "friends of the court" appeared in association with counsel for the petitioners and assisted in the presentation of evidence concerning the rights of "a large number of aliens poorly equipped with means or knowledge to protect their rights."

CUTS PRICE OF LIGHT AND RAISES WORKERS' PAY

SALE OF POLISH BONDS

Lowell Citizens Must Come to the Front to Save Campaign

Unless Lowell citizens come to the front at once to subscribe for bonds issued by the republic of Poland, the campaign instituted in this city on May 22 to sell $100,000 worth of those securities will fail, it was announced today.

To date a little more than $40,000 has been raised with several thousand dollars in immediate prospect. But this does not bring the total, even to the half-way mark and inasmuch as the drive is due to end July 5, the committee in charge feels that there should be an immediate stimulation of interest in the campaign.

So far nearly 700 residents of the city of Polish birth or descent, out of an estimated population of 1000, have purchased bonds. It is explained that many of the Polish residents here are married and usually only one bond is bought by the family, thus explaining the seeming failure of 300 people to buy bonds.

THE WRANGLE OVER THE IRISH PLANK

NEW YORK, June 24.—John Davoy in his paper this week has another attack on President De Valera, charging that but for the latter the Irish plank prepared by Cohan would have been inserted in the republican platform. The correspondents at San Francisco are sending out reports of the same character and charging De Valera with interfering with the action of the Friends of Irish Freedom, who are represented by Judge Cohan. Dr. McCarron, representing De Valera, had a long interview in the New York World a few days ago, charging certain men here with trying to block De Valera's mission as representing the Irish people and not any American organization.

PLANS FOR VOCATIONAL SCHOOL ADDITION

Commissioner George E. Marchand today took the plans for the new addition to the Vocational school in the Mann school building to the office of the district police for approval. Just as soon as the approval is obtained the commissioner will present an appropriation order before the municipal council of sufficient size to cover the cost of construction. This amount has not been definitely figured, but is expected to approximate $10,000, perhaps less.

The addition will be of wooden mill construction and will be built by employees of the public property department. It will be of two stories and 75 by 23 feet overall. It will allow for four new rooms, each to be 22 feet, six inches by 32 feet, 2 inches in size. On the ground floor will be an instruction room and an academic room and on the second floor, a drawing room and a finishing room. Three new openings in the present brick wall and five new windows are included in the plans.

FRENCH WAR CROSS FOR FORMER LOWELL BOY

Word has reached Lowell that Sergt. Michael J. Sullivan, formerly of this city, where he has relatives and many friends, has received a French war cross at his home in Salt Lake City, Utah, where he is employed by the Northwestern Tel. and Tel. Co.

Accompanying the cross de guerre is a special citation from General Petain for meritorious service performed while a member of M company, 362nd Infantry, 1st Division, near Steenbrugge on Oct. 31, 1918. This citation says that Sergt. Sullivan maintained perfect liaison communication with other units while subjected to heavy artillery fire during an advance.

GARDENS AND ORCHARDS

TO BE PROTECTED

Major Perry D. Thompson announced today that during the summer his five motor cycle policemen will pay particular attention to depredations upon gardens and orchards.

"In fact, that is one of their cardinal duties," said the mayor, "and every possible protection will be given home owners who seek to combat the high living cost with gardens and orchards."

A disease called rickets is at present rampant in Great Britain.

ANTHRACITE BOARD
OPENS HEARINGS

SCRANTON, Pa., June 24.—The Anthracite commission, recently appointed by Pres. Wilson opened hearings here today in the wage controversy between the hard coal operators and mine workers. The commission is taking up a task of which a joint conference sub-committee of operators, miners and the public wrestled in vain for six weeks in April and May.

The specific demands of the men have not been made public, but it is known they will ask to be placed on a wage parity with the bituminous miners who were granted an advance of 27 per cent, effective April 1. Recognition of the union also will be demanded. The hearings are expected to continue for three weeks. The members of the commission are Dr. William O. Thompson, president of Ohio State university, chairman representing the public; W. L. Connell of Scranton, representing the operators and Neal Forester, of McAdoo, Pa., representing the mine workers.

SAYS JAPAN IS FRIENDLY

Only Hostility Expressed is That Implied by "Yellow" Journals, Says Van Dyke

SEATTLE, Wash., June 24.—According to a message brought home from Japan by Dr. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton University, former American minister to Holland, who has just arrived here, the only hostility expressed by the Japanese towards the United States is that implied by a small and "yellow" section of the press.

Dr. Van Dyke is accompanied by his daughter, Miss Paula. During his stay in Japan he was the guest of prominent government officials and lectured at several universities. His opportunities for observation were extensive, he said, and declared he returned with the firm conviction that sentiment of Japan is intensively cordial and friendly toward the United States.

"Japan wants no war with our country, nor does she desire any difficulty with us whatsoever," he said.

WILLIAM CARROLL
Resigns as Assistant Clerk of Lowell Police Court

William J. Carroll, assistant clerk of the Lowell police court, yesterday resigned his position and today left for Springfield, Ill., where he will take up work in the internal revenue department of the federal government.

Mr. Carroll has been assistant clerk of the local court since March, 1919, and previous to that time was engaged in the same work he now is again entering. His successor has not been named.

THEIR ANNUAL OUTING

The annual outing of the graduates of St. Michael's parochial school was held today at the Genoa club grounds in Tyngsboro. The boys and girls left the school shortly after 9 o'clock this morning in an automobile truck via the Pawtucket boulevard to the well appointed grounds, where a day of pleasure was spent. Games and races of all descriptions as well as other athletic events were carried out and suitable prizes were awarded the winners. At noon a bountiful dinner was served on the green and in the afternoon games were resumed. The children were in charge of two sisters of the convent and Rev. Fr. Lynch.

It must be an uneasy feeling, never knowing when you're going to be somebody's breakfast, and as long as Marty was around, Phil never could make an engagement for the day after tomorrow. But now it was different. Phil was even thinking of taking his family on a summer vacation, which showed how far ahead he expected to be enjoying good health.

Stock Nuttings Lake With Fish—Sunday Baseball

The board of selectmen of Billerica have acted favorably on a petition of residents in the vicinity of Nuttings lake that a request be made of the state fish and game commissioners that they stock the lake with fish and order a closed season on fishing from the first of November to the first of June each year.

People of North Billerica who are in favor of the legalizing of Sunday baseball games are not entirely satisfied with the action of the town meeting Monday night in defeating the Sunday sports proposition and it is believed that an effort will be made to have the matter considered again at the next annual town meeting.

The Father Mathew Total Abstinence society is making plans for a lawn party to be held on the grounds of the organization July 22. Shame on Them.

PERHAPS there are a few mothers who do not know the virtues of Fletcher's Castoria. Perhaps there are a few who know that there are imitations on the market, and knowing this demand Fletcher's. It is to ALL motherhood then that we call attention to the numerous imitations and counterfeits that may be set before them.

It is to all motherhood everywhere that we ring out the warning to beware of the "Just-as-good". For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been an aid in the upbuilding of our population; an aid in the saving of babies.

And yet there are those who would ask you to try something new. Try this. Try that. Even try the same remedy for the tiny, scarcely breathing, babe that you in all your robust womanhood would use for yourself. Shame on them.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's CASTORIA

Your Friend, the Physician.

The history of all medicines carries with it the story of battles against popular beliefs; fights against prejudice; even differences of opinion among scientists and men devoting their lives to research work; laboring always for the betterment of mankind. This information is at the hand of all physicians. He is with you at a moment's call be the trouble trifling or great. He is your friend, your household counselor. He is the one to whom you can always look for advice even though it might not be a case of sickness. He is not just a doctor. He is a student to his last and final call. His patients are his family and to lose one is little less than losing one of his own flesh and blood.

Believe him when he tells you—as he will—that Fletcher's Castoria has never harmed the littlest babe, and that it is a good thing to keep in the house. He knows.

Fresh, perfectly clean—without hard rubbing or boiling!

IS THERE anything harder to wash than men's things? They're so big and heavy. And they have a way of getting so dirty. You rub and rub until you're worn out, and then you're not sure they're going to be clean.

Do them the Rinso way the next time. It's the very newest, easiest way to wash. You put your clothes to soak overnight in the rich Rinso—colored clothes half an hour in the morning. Then just rinse. Hold them up to the light. You are amazed. They are clean and bright.

You need never rub again—except very dirty bands, collars, and badly soiled spots. And then you can do very lightly between your hands.

You need never boil your clothes again—unless you care to occasionally for sterilizing.

Rinso comes in fine granules. It contains no harsh chemicals. Soaking clothes in Rinso is just as safe as soaking them in water. It is so high in cleansing value that it just loosens all the dirt. It actually saves your clothes because it does away with the ruinous rubbing and boiling that you have always had to give them to get them clean.

Washday need never hold such horrors again. You will just soak and rinse—that's all. And put the clothes away fresh and white.

Get Rinso from your grocer today. Follow the easy directions on the package. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass. (Makers of Lux).

Coulombe were married this afternoon, at St. Joseph's rectory, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. Eugene J. Turcolte, O.M.I. The bride wore flesh colored georgette crepe with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was given away by her father, Mr. John Coulombe, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. Amadee Dube. Little Miss Yvonne Robert, a cousin of the groom, acted as flower girl and she was attired in white satin and carried a huge bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. At the close of the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride, 57 Cheever street, and this evening, a reception will be held at the home of the groom, 56 Worthen street. Mr. and Mrs. Dube, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, will leave this evening on a two-weeks' honeymoon trip to Worcester, and upon their return they will make their home at 56 Worthen street. Attending the festivities were guests from Worcester, Richmond, N. H., and Fitchburg.

Kenny—Kenny

The marriage of Mr. James Kenny and Miss Nora Kenny took place yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Immaculate Conception rectory, the officiating clergyman being the pastor, Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O.M.I. The bride wore crepe trimmed with Irish point lace and a veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Margaret M. Kenny, who was attired in pink georgette with picture hat to match and carried Killarney roses. The best man was Mr. Patrick Kelly. The bride's gift to the bride-maid was a string of pearls, while the groom's favor to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 30 Plummer avenue and later in the evening the happy couple left for Providence, R. I., and upon their return they will make their home in Plummer avenue.

BENEFITS OF MANDATE UNDER LEAGUE

ADRIANOPLE, June 22.—The French administration, accompanied by a small army of occupation, in Western Thrace, is being pointed to here as an example of the benefits a mandate would accomplish under the League of Nations.

The French civil administration began its work in the latter part of last November, and into a country full of warring bands of various nationalities, it has brought peace and order, permitted the planting of crops, and the normal pre-war life of the country to be pursued.

When the French took over the country every man's hand was raised against the other. Alarmists' rumors about the arrival of the British and Greek, Bulgarian and Turkish troops were circulated frequently. The French took over the Bulgarian administration, and for the most part the Bulgarian civilian employees, whom the French found efficient, in order to insure the honesty of these officials, the French have adopted the system in many localities, where the Greeks are in majority, of putting alongside of a Greek chief official, a Bulgarian secretary and vice versa in localities where the Turks or the Greeks are in majority.

The French have in all, including constabulary, not more than 500 of their own chief administrators. These are generally officers detailed from the army who have had experience in the French colonies. Thus with the skeleton French staff, the French have been able to obtain a reasonable efficiency.

When the French came they had 1,500,000 francs put at their disposal by their government for administrative expenses but so far they have not spent one franc of this sum. They immediately levied indirect taxes and for the period they have been in the country these have been practically double the expenses of the civil administration.

Public order has been so easily maintained that in the district of Karagatch only three French gendarmes, each with 12 local men under him, were required.

According to the French, the country would be reasonably prosperous, in view of its fertile soil. If order were maintained and the various nationalities were prevented from fighting.

Facts for Sick Women

Reliable Information

All American women know of the great success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in restoring to health women who suffered from ailments peculiar to their sex, yet there are some who are skeptical and do not realize that all that is claimed for it is absolutely true—if they did, our laboratory would not be half large enough to supply the demand, though today it is the largest in the country used for the manufacture of one particular medicine.

The facts contained in the following two letters should prove of benefit to many women:

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I suffered with organic inflammation and displacement. When lifting I had such pain and bearing down that I was not able to stand up, and it hurt me to walk or go up or down stairs. I was going to a doctor without any results and he said the safest thing would be to have an operation. I met a lady who told me she had three operations and was not well until she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I felt so much better taking two bottles of Vegetable Compound and I kept on with it until I was cured. I always use Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and they are fine. Everything used to turn sour on my stomach and the Liver Pills relieved that."—Mrs. A. Rogers, 533 Fargo Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

Sacramento, Calif.—"I had organic trouble and had such terrible pain and swelling in the lower part of my side that I could not stand on my feet or even see the bed clothes touch my side. I gave up my work thinking I would not be able to go back for months. My mother advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had saved her life at one time, and it put me in a wonderful condition in a couple of weeks, so I can keep on working. I work in a department store and have to stand on my feet all day and I do not have any more pains. I surely recommend your Vegetable Compound to all my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Dorothy J. Parker, 3320 M St., Sacramento, Calif.

STORY OF A. E. F. TOLD IN PICTURES

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The story of the American Expeditionary Force is told in pictures on the walls of the National Museum here in a permanent exhibit just opened to the public.

Drawn from life in paint, pen and ink or pencil by American artists commissioned and sent to the front for that purpose the collection of nearly 500 studies detailing almost every phase of life in the army overseas is spread over the walls of hall a dozen great, well lighted rooms. It is a tale of stirring action which they disclose.

Among the scenes depicted are ruined French villages made sacred forever to Americans because of American blood freely given to tear them from German hands. There are the homely, appealing scenes from behind the lines with happy-go-lucky youngsters, of Pershing's division in billets mixing among the people of France, the very old and the very young people. Here and there are grim reminders of the great tragedy in groups of huddled dead in wrecked enemy trenches over which the tide of victory had poured. Again, half glimpsed through a downpour of rain, a trudging, sodden infantry column moving onward through a sea of mud as the artist saw it; or an endless line of weary gun teams drags forward the batteries to blast the road to triumph.

At one point the artist caught and held for his fellow countrymen the breathless tenseness of a forest outpost, peering through the leafy screen of his covert toward the enemy lines, his rifle hugged close with fingers clenched about the trigger; at another a flash of light from a half-opened door has painted on the screen of night just a hint at a column, tramping on toward battle, just a young face or two in the line, weary, dirty but with jaws grim set with purpose. Again it is a hospital that has gripped the artistic imagination, a twisted, writhing form under the tumbled blanket with agony in every line and over it the steady-eyed surgeon or the merciful figure of an army nurse.

In rooms around the picture display are shown all the countless things with which the army and the navy dealt in the war; the guns, the bombs, the uniforms of ally and enemy alike, captured weapons and German war gear of many kinds. These form a striking setting, for the epic tale the war artists have pictured, probably the only such record ever assembled for it began with the army and runs on to the departure of the homeward transports at the close.

Artists who made the pictures, all of whom held the rank of captain in the American Expeditionary Force, include Wallace Morgan, Ernest Poitot, Julius Andre Smith, Harry E. Townsend, Harvey Dunn, Walter J. Duncan, all of New York City; William J. Aylward, Fairport, N. Y.; and George M. Harding, Wynnewood, Pa.

A Corn?

Why, a touch will end it!

A corn today is needless, and millions of people know it.

Years ago nearly every woman had them. Now women who know Blue-jay never suffer corns.

Ask your own friends.

Blue-jay comes in liquid form or plaster. One applies it in a jiffy—by a touch.

The pain stops. In a little time the whole corn loosens and comes out.

The proof is everywhere. Tens of millions of corns have been ended in this simple, easy way.

This is the scientific method—the modern way of dealing with a corn. It was created by this world-famed laboratory, which every physician respects.

One test will solve all your corn problems. Make it tonight. Buy Blue-jay from your druggist.

Ocean Liners Packed With Foreigners Who Came Here Before War

BY LORRY A. JACOBS
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, June 24.—The rolling stones have apparently had enough of "Seeing America First" during the war. It's all "Seeing Some Place Else" now.

Every steamer that leaves New York is filled and hundreds are being compelled to stay in New York for weeks awaiting booking. Foreigners who came here before the war are returning to their native lands to spend money they have made here, to find relatives, to search for traces of those who died during the war, and to see once again their native shores.

Students Plan Tours

The sightseers are of every nationality and type. Scores of Columbia and New York university students are planning to tour Europe during the holidays on the "work-year-way" plan. Many of them have applied for any possible job on the steamers and others have already received the promise of the few clerical positions that are open.

Still others, in order to get the coveted places, have joined unions as a necessary step in procuring a place.

SHE GAINED 33 POUNDS

Among the many interesting cases of nerve quiet and increase in weight credited to the aid of Bitro-Phosphate is that of Mrs. Rosa Harris, who was thin and nervous when she began, weighing 101 pounds. While using Bitro-Phosphate faithfully, she had reached 134 pounds, a desirable weight for her. The improvement in Mrs. Harris' appearance was so great, that friends of hers were amazed.

Bitro-Phosphate aids in overcoming many cases of neurasthenia, brain or mind fatigue, tendency to hysteria, melancholy or breakdown, sleeplessness, lack of self-control, nervous spells. Gain new energy and inspiration. This whole publication could be filled with statements of those who tell of the efficiency of Bitro-Phosphate in overcoming nervousness, weakness and ailed troubles, and in aiding nature to increase weight steadily, healthily, lastingly. Be well, be happy.

You should add years to your life, and have far more contentment, by using Bitro-Phosphate and following the simple directions of the health system accompanying each box.

30-Day Guarantee

So positive are the producers of its merits that you may now obtain Bitro-Phosphate under 30-day guarantee of finding satisfactory nerve quiet, increasing your weight until you are of normal, healthy size, or otherwise obtaining desired benefit—or Bitro-Phosphate will cost you nothing. Could anything be fairer?

At A. W. Brown, and all leading drug stores you may obtain Bitro-Phosphate. Booklet of interesting facts about nerve-quiet, increased weight, new strength, tranquility of mind, and other health desires will be sent free, postpaid by ARROW CHEMICAL COMPANY, 13 Union Square, New York.

NOVEL VESTEE FEATURE OF CHIC TAILLEUR

BY CORA MOORE.
New York's Fashion Authority.
NEW YORK, June 24.—This very smart tailored suit was worn the other day by an actress when she came to rehearsals for one of the new plays.

It is of blue Polart with long revers, a rippling peplum and a string sash.

The novel feature of the suit is the cream-colored, accordion-plated waistcoat of georgette with its tiny square cut yoke and standing collar of the twill, which is removable.

THEY SHOW NO HATRED

Coblentz Germans Prefer Americans to French and Are Satisfied.

BY MILTON BRONNER.
COBLENTZ, Germany, June 24.—Do the Yanks who fought like bear-cats in the Argonne, display any hatred towards their late foes?

If they do you can't notice it in this capital of the American zone of occupation.

To all outward appearances, the American troops and the German civilians get along as comfortably as a

THE BOYS IN THE OTHER CAR

By foot and a soft old shoe.

Many American Kiddlees

Most of the officers have brought their families here, and American kiddlees are all over the city.

Go about at night and it looks almost as if every American "non-com" and private had a fraulein on his arm. Some have been to church, others to picture shows and still others to restaurants where they can dance and sing.

I was in a restaurant one night when an old, sweet-faced motherly woman came in to sell bouquets of lilies-of-the-valley. Nearly every man with a woman, bought flowers which sold for two marks. The flower vender, I learned, lost her three sons in the war and is now supporting grandchildren.

The Yankee keeping watch on the Rhine is certainly not a good hater. It must be added, however, that there is absolutely no fraternization between our officers and the natives. The Americans in charge of our army naturally must keep aloof from people with whom we are still officially at war.

Don't Like French

How about the Germans?

I suppose they love us no more than they do their other late foes. But I also imagine they hope to make more out of us by being openly friendly. They certainly prefer us to the French.

I asked Germans of all classes whether they would rejoice the day the Yanks finally pulled up stakes and left for home. The answer was a vigorous negative. They feel that the day we leave the French will enter.

Unlike our men, the French polios do not fraternize with the populace. In the terrace gardens where drinks and food are served outdoors, they may be frequently seen, because it reminds them of their beloved Paris boulevard drinking places, but always keeping to themselves or in company with their allies.

Few Things "Verboten"

American occupation rests lightly upon the people even though American officers are billeted in the best homes and some hotels and restaurants have practically been taken over for our needs.

In the former land of "verboten" few things are verboten now to the natives so long as they behave themselves.

Among the American verbotens to the Germans are:

They may not burn gas in their homes after a certain hour. This is to help them save precious coal.

They may not drink liquor in the cafes and bars after a certain hour. This is to help preserve order in the town.

They may not hold parades in which the red flag or Bolshevik banners are displayed.

American occupation was followed by American white flour and other food which the natives had not seen for years. It was also followed by a flood of American money spent by doughboys.

Prices Shot Up

This was gon for shop-keepers but bad for other classes of people. It caused prices to shoot up.

The people who fare best are the frauleins who are fortunate enough to have a Yankee private for a beau on monthly pay day. He thinks nothing of blowing the girl off to a big "feed" at a good restaurant and topping it off by buying her a 700-mark skirt or blouse that she has long coveted.

ENGINE DIED OVER Three Passengers and Two R. R. Men Injured When Express Ran Into Freight

HARTFORD, Conn., June 23.—Three passengers were slightly hurt and two railroad employees were sent to the hospital early today after an express train, number 70 from New York to Boston by way of Springfield, was in collision with a freight car here.

Engineer R. Gray was very seriously burned and fireman Daniel Bailey had a compound fracture of the left leg. The express was running into the yard of the Broad street crossing, near the state armory when a June freight car, which was standing on the track, was hit. The express engine, mail and baggage cars were derailed and the engine tipped over blocking tracks numbered 1 and 2, which compelled a detour of trains south for a number of hours.

DEATHS

BALCH.—Miss Mary A. Balch, who for 43 years was a teacher in the Edison school in this city, died June 13, at Danversport, aged 73 years. The funeral was held Tuesday at Taftsville, Mass., and burial was in the family lot at that town. Miss Balch was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parley Balch. Her father was for many years principal of the Edison school and is remembered by older residents of Lowell. Miss Balch received her education here, and upon its completion, entered upon her service as teacher in the Edison school. About seven years ago, ill health forced her resignation, and she was retired on a pension. She remained in Lowell up to within a few months when she went to Danversport to live with relatives.

VARNUM.—Mrs. Lovinia S. Varnum died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William McKenney, 23 Oakland street, aged 54 years, 7 months and 26 days. She leaves four children, George Varnum and Mrs. Wilbur E. McKenney, both of Lowell, Henry Varnum of Chelmsford, and Volney S. Varnum of Long Beach, Cal., and several grandchildren.

RAPONE.—Mary Rapone, aged 4 years and 3 months, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mauro and Serafina Rapone, 45 Auburn street.

COYLE.—John Coyle, an old resident of this city and for many years employed on the street department of Lowell, died this morning at a local hospital after a long illness. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Mary Coyle McGuire, of Boston. He was a member of St. Joseph's Holy Name society.

STAMATAKIS.—Georgianna Stamatakis, aged 28 years, died yesterday at the Chelmsford Street hospital. She leaves her husband, Christos, and three children. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertakers Amedeo Archambault & Sons and burial took place this afternoon at 1 o'clock in Westlawn cemetery after services were held at the Greek Orthodox church in Jefferson street.

FUNERALS

DICKINSON.—The funeral services of Mrs. Chas. H. Dickinson were held June 21 at her home in Dunstable, Rev. Mr. Sturtevant of Lowell officiating. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertakers Amedeo Archambault & Sons and burial took place this afternoon at 1 o'clock in Westlawn cemetery after services were held at the Greek Orthodox church in Jefferson street.

OWENS.—The funeral of Miss Abby J. Owens took place yesterday and private funeral services were held in the Tabernacle Memorial chapel at the Lowell cemetery. The Rev. Walter Woodbury, pastor of the Western Street Baptist church, there were numerous beautiful flowers. Burial took place in the family lot, where Rev. Mr. Woodbury read the committal prayer. The funeral was in charge of Funeral Director John A. Weinbeck.

FUNERAL NOTICES

COYLE.—Died June 21, John Coyle. Funeral will take place on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from the funeral parlors of Undertakers Amedeo Archambault & Sons. Burial high mass of requiem will be sung at St. Peter's church at 9 o'clock. Burial will take place in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertakers Amedeo Archambault & Sons in charge.

RAPONE.—Died June 23, Mary Rapone. Funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her parents, Mauro and Serafina Rapone, 45 Auburn street. Services will be held at St. Anthony's church at 2 o'clock. Burial will take place in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertakers Amedeo Archambault & Sons in charge.

VARNUM.—Died June 23rd, in this city, Mrs. Lovinia S. Varnum, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William McKenney, 23 Oakland street. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Lowell cemetery. Rev. Mr. Sturtevant will officiate. Burial in the family lot in the cemetery at Pittsfield, Mass. The funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertakers George W. Healey.

JEWETT.—A mass of requiem will be celebrated at St. Patrick's church Friday, June 25th, at 8 o'clock for Richard W. Jewett.

FOURER LOWELL MAN ILL IN HOSPITAL, WANTS TO BE BURIED HERE

Thomas E. Garvey, secretary of the Lowell Civic Union, is in receipt of a letter from Henry Abraham, secretary of the Civic Union of Boston, advising him of the death of one Charles Whittier, a former Lowell man. Mr. Abraham is seeking information concerning the sick man and wants to find, if possible, if the family has a lot in any cemetery here as Mr. Whittier has expressed a desire to be buried in Lowell. Mr. Abraham's address is 11 Appleton Street, Boston.

LOWELL BOY AWARDED TWO GOLD MEDALS

One of the greatest scholastic honors which a Lowell young man has ever received was bestowed upon Leo G. Burke, son of Daniel J. Burke, 15 Barrington street, this city, at the annual commencement exercises of the college at University Heights, Chestnut Hill, Newton, yesterday (yesterday), when he was awarded two gold medals for leading his entire class in two difficult subjects, psychology and theology and evidences of religion. Mr. Burke also won honorable mention in astronomy and theology.

The Lowell young man has had an exceptionally brilliant educational career. One of the leaders of his class in the Moody grammar school, from which he was graduated in 1912, a Carner medal scholar at the Lowell high school in the class of 1916, and a winner of various medals and honors during his first three years of college, he has been a consistently zealous student until his efforts were climaxed by his honors received yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Burke was one of three Lowell young men to be graduated with the class of 1920 at Boston college. Martin E. Connors, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Connors of Belmont street, the former a lieutenant in the local police department, was presented his diploma. Mr. Connors is also a product of the Moody grammar and Lowell high schools, being president of the class of 1915 at the latter institution. He has taken an active part in the various phases of college life, has been a zealous student and despite the handicap of an enforced absence of more than a year from his studies, while he served overseas as a lieutenant in the national forces, Mr. Connors succeeded in finishing his course in the stipulated time. He was president of the Lowell Boston College club during the past year, and to his efforts much of the recent success of that organization is due.

Edgar Gervais, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gervais of 555 Lakeview avenue, was the third Lowell student to receive his diploma yesterday. Mr. Gervais received his early training in local schools and throughout his entire college career has manifested a deep interest in the various activities of the school.

The warrant for the weekly payroll for city employees was signed today in the office of the finance commissioner. It totals $55,594.48.

Chief Joseph Crepeau of the local navy recruiting station forwarded John J. Canepa, a former navy man, to Boston today as a fireman first class. Canepa is a naval reservist transferring to the regular service and lives in Newburyport.

The following officers of the local police department are now enjoying their annual two weeks' vacation: Officers Early, Flanagan, O'Connell, J. J. Delavan, Gurrity, J. R. McNally, Clancy and J. McCann.

About 50 members of Lady Franklin club, Daughters of Liberty, attended a regular meeting and entertainment of the organization at the home of Mrs. G. A. McIntosh, 85 Sanders avenue, this afternoon and evening.

Read construction work in Parkview avenue, held up for the past few weeks because of Commissioner Murphy's inability to get far for a bid, will be immediately resumed as a long-looked-for car of this section has come into the city today. It was shipped some time ago from the American Tar Co. but has been delayed in transit.

HELD DRAWING CONTEST

Members of San Antonio de Padua society held a drawing contest in their hall, 121 Summer street, last evening with the following result: First prize, $10 gold piece, Raffaele La Pressa, 20 Crosby street; second prize, bracelet, Adeline Luttreich, 3 rear of 31 Summer street and third prize, $1 pipe, Concetta Neel, 35 Suffolk street.

EX-GOV. M'CALL

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Former Governor Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts was notified again today by the White House that President Wilson had signed his recess appointment as a member of the tariff commission. It was explained that Mr. McCall's commission was put in the mail some time ago, but he reported that it had not reached him. In view of the tariff commission's desire to proceed with its work and Mr. McCall's unwillingness to report until formally advised of his appointment, the second notification was transmitted.

His nomination was not confirmed by the senate.

GRADUATION AT ST. LOUIS' SCHOOL

Commencement exercises were held at St. Louis' parish last evening. The program was one of the best given by the pupils of the school in a long time. The attendance was large and the exercises were of a high order. The graduates were presented with diplomas and the principal, Rev. Mr. McCall, gave a short address. The exercises were held in the gymnasium of the school and were attended by a large number of guests.

BOY'S BODY FOUND IN THE RIVER

The body of Eno Goleaves, the boy who was drowned in the Merrimack river between the Moody street and Pawtucket bridges Sunday afternoon, was found floating in the river this morning by an employee of Undertaker Joseph Albert, Joseph Laurin and another young man, Napoleon Couture. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Joseph Albert, where it was later viewed by Medical Examiner T. B. Smith.

The body was seen floating down the river at a point below the rapids shortly after 2:30 o'clock and was pulled to shore by the two young men who were on the lookout for it. It was found to be a boy about 10 years old and was the son of Jose and Guilhermine Goleaves of 17 Pecatur avenue.

B. & M. VACATIONISTS RETURN TO WORK

BOSTON, June 24.—Boston and Maine railroad officials announced today that 13 men employed in the Mechanicsville, N. Y., yard, who quit work yesterday saying that they were "taking a vacation," were back at work and that the labor situation on the system was normal. The men, official said, expressed a wish to return if they could do so, without the loss of rights and this was agreed to by the railroad.

AMERICAN WINS FROM BRITISHER

WIMBLEDON, June 24.—William T. Tilden of Philadelphia, defeated J. C. Parke, the British tennis star, in straight sets in their match here today in the British lawn tennis championship tournament. The score was 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

Parke, it will be remembered, put Johnston, the American champion, out of the running Tuesday.

DENIAL FROM WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Reports from San Francisco that President Wilson would address the democratic national convention by telephone were denied at the White House.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Census returns announced today include Mount Vernon, Ill.,—9815, increase of 1808, or 22.6 per cent. Bluefield, W. Va., 15,191, increase 4003, or 31.8 per cent. Beverly, Mass., 22,561, increase 3911, or 21.0 per cent.

MORE AUTOISTS FINED IN POLICE COURT

Four autoists, charged with not having their operator's licenses in their possession, were fined in police court, this morning.

Joseph Urbanek was fined $10 for not having his automobile registration or license with him when stopped by a traffic officer at the corner of High and Andover streets, on June 20. The officer said he had warned Urbanek on several occasions. Leopold Paradis was also fined $10 on two similar counts. He was arrested on June 19, on Middlesex street.

Joseph Nobrega was charged with driving a truck without a chauffeur's license and without having a license plate on the front of his machine. He was found guilty on both, fined $5 for the first offense, the second complaint being dismissed. As Nobrega was employed by the owner of the truck, the lack of the license plate could not be charged against him.

Luther Hall was found guilty of operating an automobile without having a license and fined $5.

Samuel Kramer was found guilty of violating the ordinance of the city by allowing his automobile to stand in the restricted zone in Middlesex street at the depot longer than the allotted time, but his case was put on file, inasmuch as there were no signs there at the time and as it was his first offense the court was lenient.

John Yudink, charged with assault and battery on a woman on Williams street, changed his previous plea of not guilty to guilty through his counsel, this morning. He was fined $10.

James McCluskey entered a plea of guilty to drunkenness. He was given a two months' sentence to the house of correction, suspended for six months with the understanding that he pay the damages which he caused while on his escapade.

BATHING SUITS GALORE AT BATH HOUSE

The municipal bath house in the boulevard is now equipped to handle a big crowd over the coming week, and, with the receipt today of the balance of a bathing suit order. Twenty dozen men's suits came this morning, making the total on hand, 30 dozen suits for men and women and three dozen trunks for boys.

Particular caution will be used by the park department officials to see to it that suits are immediately washed and steam cleaned after usage.

ACTIVITIES AT ARMY RECRUITING STATION

Sergt. MacLeod of the army recruiting station sent William Courchaine of 917 Lakeview avenue to Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., as a member of the Third cavalry detachment, yesterday. This is Courchaine's 10th year in the service. Henry Morin of 6 Middlesex place was forwarded also as a recruit for the educational centre of the Coast Artillery corps at Camp Upton, New York.

Mess Sergt. Frank Perkins and Priv. Van Riper of the local station have been called to Boston to do special recruiting duty in connection with a campaign in that city. They will not return until the first of July.

More British Troops Arrive

In caring for those struck down by bullets fired by the opposing factions. Rumors of the most alarming character are current. Nationalists are said to be gathering to the northwest of the city preparatory to launching an attack, while nationalists in the center of the town were being collected for a grim defense of the place. Several companies of British soldiers are on their way here from Belfast but are making part of the trip on foot, it being feared that the trains carrying them would be wrecked by lawless elements. Some troops arrived here yesterday and a British destroyer is lying in Lough Foyle, north of the city.

The men engaged in the actual fighting are the extremists of the contending factions and probably number only a few hundred. They absolutely terrorized the city yesterday, however, as they fired volleys down the streets from barricades they had erected or posted on roofs or in windows, shot at almost every one who dared to appear.

Bishop street, a long thoroughfare running southeasterly from the town hall, has been the principal battle ground during the past 24 hours. Sinn Feiners have concentrated near St. Columbkille's college about three-quarters of a mile out this street, while the nationalists have taken up positions near the center of town and have erected sand bag breastworks in barracks. It was reported early last evening that the bodies of several men killed during the day's fighting were lying in Bishop street and could not be reached because of the barricades. Last night the fighting became severe for a time, and a company of soldiers were sent out from the barracks. Bursts of machine gun fire were heard at intervals during this encounter.

Between Bishop street and the river Foyle, to the east, there are a number of narrow, crooked streets in which there have been fierce encounters. Soldiers have not yet been able to intervene effectively in this part of the town and appear to be waiting reinforcements before attempting a large scale movement to end the encounter.

NOT SAYING VERY MUCH

Attitude of Labor in the Coming Campaign Bothers the Politicians

Politicians—local, state and national—are puzzled as to the part that labor is to play in the coming campaign. Several months ago President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor sent out a statement from Washington in which unions all over the country were commanded to take an active part in politics. It was recommended that they should make a careful search of the records of all candidates for office, and that only men who were known to be favorable to labor's cause should be given support in primaries and elections. Instructions were given that an effort should be made to secure the nomination of men who had been fair to labor, and that where the candidates of both parties were considered unfair, independent tickets should be placed in the field. This command of President Gompers was endorsed at the recent convention of the federation in Montreal.

Local labor leaders are not saying much for publication about the steps both parties were considered unfair, that have been taken, or that may be taken, toward carrying out Mr. Gompers' instructions. They admit that it has been a leading subject of conversation and discussion in labor circles. It is also stated on good authority that a little later a committee will be appointed, made up of representatives of the different locals, that shall have for its purpose the carrying out of the political program of the federation.

Two More Deaths

RELFEST, June 24.—Two more deaths have occurred as a result of the fighting at Londonderry, bringing the total number of known dead up to 11. A woman named Mills was killed last night while standing in her own door, and William Rankin succumbed to wounds inflicted by Sinn Fein snipers who fired on him while he was on the way to feed his horses.

Situation Desperate

LONDON, June 24.—Sir Ranar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, today received another urgent telegram from the Londonderry magistrates, expressing their alarm that no action was being taken by the government in response to the call they made earlier in the fight in that city between unionists and nationalists. They consider the situation desperate and fear it will become worse. The message adds food supplies are running out and that the gas supply for the city is almost exhausted.

The magistrates received some assurance from the government that immediate action would be taken to allay the panic among the citizens of Londonderry.

In reply, Sir Hamar said General Campbell had command of British troops in the city and would take every possible means, with the government's approval, to remedy the situation.

CAPT. BARTLETT IS HONORED BY BOWDOIN

BRISWICK, Me., June 24.—Captain Robert A. Bartlett of New York, master of the Roosevelt, characterized as the loyal and brave companion of Peary on his trip to the North pole, was given the honorary degree of master of arts at the 115th commencement exercises of Bowdoin college and Bowdoin Medical school today.

The degree of bachelor of arts was conferred on S. J. deVos, doctor of science on 26 and of doctor of medicine on 10 graduates.

Honorary degrees were conferred as follows:

HUMPHREY O'SULLIVAN Says:

Did you ever, in all your days, hear of so many sales as there are going on around you just now?

Discount Sales—Mark-Down Sales—Anniversary Sales—Manufacturers' Sales—Over-Stocked Sales—Wholesale to Consumer Sales and what not kind of sales. All (except the Merrimack) using big black type and buying up page after page in the papers (which you have to pay for) each trying to convince the public that he is selling his goods at a tremendous loss. We think some of them would be willing to send a taxicab after you if you notified them you wanted to come down town to take away some of their money, they are so anxious to be charitable.

Well, anyway, we're mighty glad we started something when we launched our campaign two months ago, selling you your

Clothes at Cost

PLUS EXPENSE OF SELLING
They are all making a feeble effort to follow us with all kinds of sales and we advise the public to be careful as the ice is thin—beware of the imitators. Come up to the Merrimack and feast your eyes on the clothes we are selling at cost plus expense of selling same. You'll find no factory seconds, no damaged goods or misfits—well A. number one goods—and we're making enough profit to cover our expenses, which we think is a fair proposition. What do you say?
Here are the cost plus expense prices this week:

OIL PROMOTERS ARE INDICTED

4 Oil Companies, 10 Brokers and 50 Individuals Named by Federal Grand Jury

Accused of Using Mails to Defraud Investors Out of Millions of Dollars

NEW YORK, June 25.—Four oil companies, ten brokerage houses and about fifty individuals have been indicted by the federal grand jury on a charge of using the mails to defraud investors out of millions of dollars it was learned today, when seals on the indictment were ordered broken. Federal agents in cities throughout the country are now engaged in rounding up the men indicted. They are charged with having made gross misrepresentations regarding oil properties, and with paying dividends out of money obtained from the sale of stock.

The companies involved are the Ranger Oil Co., the W. P. Williams Oil Co., the Great Western Petroleum Corp. and the Crown Oil Co.

Brokerage concerns indicted are Stickney, Rawlinson, and Coughlin of Boston, and Curtis, Packer & Co., the United Securities Co., H. Kent Holmes & Co., H. P. Morgan Pollock & Co., Thompson, James & Co., Crossman, Sherman & Co., George A. Lamb & Co., E. M. Nutter & Co., and Greenbaum, Bigelow and Greenbaum, nearly all of them with headquarters in this city.

Some of the brokerage houses had connection in Chicago and other cities. The round-up now being conducted is said to be the beginning of a nationwide campaign against alleged oil stock swindlers who are credited with having cleaned up millions of dollars within the last few months. The first batch of indictments were returned after a long investigation conducted by a special squad of postoffice inspectors under the direction of Assistant United States Attorney Jerome Simmons and Henry E. Kelly.

STRIKE HALTS COAL MOVEMENTS

Both Production and Shipments of Hard Coal Threatened by R. R. Walkout

Conflicting Reports on Numbers Quitting and Returning to Work

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—Effects of the railroad yardmen's strike have reached the coal region and it was said today that both production and shipments of hard coal would be at a standstill unless there is a speedy improvement in the situation. Reports from Pottsville and Reading said large numbers of Reading railway men have joined the walk-out. Harrisburg, Tanawana, and other up-state points also report accessions to the strikers' ranks. At Harrisburg an embargo on all freight except perishables and coal, is in effect on the Reading lines.

Strike leaders continued today to claim that all three lines entering Philadelphia were effectively tied up so far as the movement of freight was concerned. Officials of the Pennsylvania and the Reading denied this and declared that most of the strikers' places had been filled. The Baltimore & Ohio said only 60 men were out in its local yards.

Strikers Deny Charge
BALTIMORE, June 24.—Striking railroad men in Baltimore, angry over the statement issued by G. W. W. Hanger, of the railroad labor board, that the cause of the present walkout was the fight of labor organizations among themselves, met last night and passed resolutions denying Mr. Hanger's statement, and giving their own reasons for their dissatisfaction.

"The cause of the men quitting work," the resolution states, "was inadequate wages, intolerable working conditions and repeated disappointments over the failure of the labor board to make a decision in regard to the railroad men's wages."

Entire Force Strikes
BALTIMORE, Md., June 24.—The entire yard force of the Western Maryland, at Hagerstown, numbering about 225 men, went out on strike this morning, but the movement of passenger and through freight trains was not impeded, it was said.

Triple Deadlock
CHICAGO, June 24.—A well-confirmed report in circulation in labor circles today said the railway labor board was divided three ways on the wage controversy, the labor group holding out for an award which both the company and public representatives thought exorbitant and the company group refusing to concede an award that the public group held reasonable.

Judge Barton, chairman of the board, declined to comment on this report. "It takes time for nine men representing three different view-points to agree on anything," he said.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION

Class of 262 Awarded Di-

Hon. Jeremiah E. Burke
Speaker of the Evening—
Many Novel Features

The Lowell High school sent forth a class of 262 young men and women endowed with the splendid attributes of that institution's course of training, at the annual graduation exercises held last evening in Keith's theatre before an audience that completely filled the large auditorium.

Always an inspiring event in the city's educational calendar, the 1920 exercises seemed more impressive than ever, due perhaps, to the fact that the graduates who received their

LAWN PARTY AT KASINO

Ideal Weather for Annual Event by St. Margaret's Parish

Ideal weather, most suitable for an affair to be held out of doors, added materially to the success of the tenth annual lawn party of St. Margaret's parish which got under way this afternoon at the Kasino and its surrounding grounds in Thorndike street.

A hustling corps of officers and committee had arranged an excellent program for the occasion. A notable feature this year was an elaborate midway with its series of attractively decorated booths presided over by energetic young people.

This afternoon's program was devised mainly for the enjoyment of the children of the parish and consisted of entertainments and folk dancing the latter under the direction of Miss Catherine Whelan Conroy.

This evening there will also be feature dances as well as general dancing to start at 9 o'clock. Hon. John J. Mitchell, collector of internal revenue for Massachusetts, is expected to be the guest of honor this evening.

A large number of the young people of St. Margaret's parish as well as many from the other parishes of the city were present this afternoon to enjoy the various attractions. The program of fancy dances with those participating was as follows:

Rose Dance—Kathleen Murphy, Gertrude Bourke, Lena Sherburne, Catherine Ryan, Irene Flynn, Marion Barrell and Helen Hennessey.

Butterfly Dance—Janet Markham Rita Flynn, Bobby Flynn, Helen Cheney, Dorothy Duggan, Winifred Larkin, Lillian Connolly, Avis Hollis

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Assistant Attorney General Frierson, has advised Gov. Roberts of Tennessee that the legislature of that state could ratify the suffrage amendment without submitting the issue to the people.

Suffrage Hopes Rally

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 24.—Suffrage hopes rallied today when it was learned that Governor Roberts planned to call a special session of the legislature to act on the Federal Suffrage Amendment, following receipt of a telegram from President Wilson urging such action in the interests of "real service to the party and the nation."

ULSTER TROOPS TO AID

Would Join British in Fighting in Ireland—Offer Condemned by Press

LONDON, June 24.—A possible new policy of dealing with the Irish situation was foreshadowed today when the Attorney General for Ireland told the house of commons that the government had an offer of the services of 3000 officers and men of the Ulster ex-service men's associations, and added that the offer was being carefully considered. The English liberal newspapers have had rumors that such a step was under consideration and have expressed the view that it would greatly inflame Irish animosity. Soldiers employed in Ireland so far have been recruited from the British side of the channel. It was commented that the use of one Irish faction might result in a step towards civil war.

CAMPAIGN FOR HOLY CROSS FUND

Patrick J. Reynolds, of this city, has been chosen a member of a special executive committee of 15 leading alumni of Holy Cross college to stage a campaign to raise $1,150,000 for new buildings at the college in Worcester. This committee will meet at Worcester tomorrow to formulate plans for the campaign.

Among the new facilities which the alumni and friends of the college are to be asked to provide to prevent a curtailment of the institution's usefulness are a dormitory, science and lecture hall, assembly and dining hall and a new chapel.

SEIZE STILL AT FITCHBURG

FITCHBURG, June 24.—A five-gallon still and a quantity of mash were seized at the home of Amedeo Molsson in this city by federal and local officers today, the first raid in this locality since the Volstead act went into effect.

Molsson, who is a railroad employee with seven children will appear before Commissioner Hays in Boston tomorrow.

MORE BRITISH TROOPS ARRIVE

Ordered to Londonderry in Attempt to Halt Civil War in Progress for Week

Many Shot Down During Fierce Fighting in Street—
Reign of Terror

LONDONDERRY, June 24.—More British troops have arrived in this city and their greater activity in efforts to protect life and property has had a quieting effect. Only occasional shots were heard after midnight this morning. Two snipers have been arrested by the soldiers.

Besides actually attacking snipers with armored cars and machine guns, the troops have done much rescue work. When it was reported last night that the Sinn Feiners were about to attack a cluster of houses, armored cars were rushed to the scene and the troops removed terrified women and children to a section of the town where nationalists predominate. The gas works also have been protected by armed men.

The gas supply ceased at 5 o'clock this morning, and the inhabitants in some sections were left in a serious plight without fuel, light, or bread. Portions of the outlying districts are being patrolled by Ulster volunteers while nationalist volunteers were guaranteeing their section.

Many additional wounded were brought to the hospitals during the night.

A barber named McLaughlin was killed this morning by the bullet of a sniper who was firing at long range. John McKinney who was wounded yesterday, died today. The body of a commercial traveler, which was lying in the street where he was killed on Tuesday, was recovered during the forenoon.

Wire barricades and trees have been thrown across the main roads to Londonderry by factionalists, apparently in an effort to hamper the troops. Some of the telegraph and telephone lines leading into the town have been cut.

A number of Sinn Feiners rounded up by the military had arms and plenty of ammunition. They were handed over to the police. Among those arrested was a priest, but he was released.

The destroyer which arrived in the river Foyle yesterday was forced to change its berth early today because snipers were firing on it.

REIGN OF TERROR

LONDONDERRY, June 24.—Terror held sway here yesterday and last night, rifle and machine gun fire sweeping the streets in the fiercest fighting to develop thus far in the civil war which began last Friday between unionist and nationalist forces. The number of men killed and injured has not been determined, as it has been impossible to reach the scene of the battles in Bishop, Cross and Bond streets. It is believed, however, that there were scores of victims. Hospitals are taxed to their capacity

PARTY LEADERS REACH 'FRISCO

Sen. Glass and Tammany Leader Murphy Arrive for Democratic Convention

Bryan Still Missing—"Wet" Issue Continues to be Subject of Discussion

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—Preliminaries to the democratic national convention got into the inevitable hurry and bustle today with the appearance of men who are to take leading parts in the quadrennial drama. In the whisperings behind the scenes, the question of the party's policy toward bone-dry prohibition continued the big theme of agitation, with prospects increasing for a fight on the convention floor. Arriving leaders and delegations also added some impetus to the discussion of the presidential candidates, but that subject still remained well in the background.

Two newly arrived figures attracted particular attention. One was Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, fresh from Washington and generally reported to have brought President Wilson's own draft of the platform. The other was Charles F. Murphy, of New York, the leader of Tammany hall, who came direct from the widely-heralded conference of old-line party strategists at French Lick, Ind.

Both of them were busy, but silent. Privately they look careful stock of the situation and conferred earnestly with leaders from far and wide. Publicly they refused to talk politics. Mr. Murphy was the new center of speculation on the subject of prohibition. The declaration of the New York state convention for the repeal of the 18th amendment and widely circulated reports of the patching of an anti-bone-dry plan at French Lick helped to bolster the impression among many delegates that Tammany would lead in the effort to write such a plank into the platform.

Taggart Expected Today

Not only the Tammany chief but all of his lieutenants refused steadfastly to discuss that subject or to say whether

British War Office to Make Immediate Appeal for Reservists

LONDON, June 24.—The war office intends most immediately to appeal for reservists, according to the Daily Mail today. The newspaper says it probably will ask for discharged soldiers and men who served for at least one year during the war and have not since joined the territorials, to enlist in the army reserve. "The decision," the Daily Mail continues, "is due to the serious view taken by the military authorities of the situation in the near and middle east, a situation which it considers necessitates an increase of 15,000 to 20,000 to the strength of the army reserve."

Threat Against Life of Cardinal Logue

DUBLIN, June 24.—Cardinal Logue, Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of Ireland, declared while speaking at Maynooth college yesterday that he had "received warning, his time was set." The cardinal declared that he was grateful for the warning because it "gave him time to prepare," and added: "I have always tried to do what I could for my country and have never consciously said a word to offend anybody, no matter what was his religion or politics. If I come to a sudden end there will be no justification for those responsible." No indication of the source of the warning was given by the aged cardinal.

APPEAL BY WIRELESS

Local Wireless Amateur
Catches Message From
U. S. Dept. of Agriculture

Seeking the co-operation of the Boy Scouts in the work of food production, Secretary Meredith of the United States department of agriculture sent out an appeal by wireless from the Boston naval station last night which was picked up by Arthur S. Davis, of 22 Holden street, a wireless amateur and member of the Lowell Radio club who has a powerful receiving radio set at his home.

As the boys of the radio club are nearly always at their instruments listening in on the air "buzzes" they say that this message was the first of its kind they have received. The implication to the scouts was as follows: "America needs your help in food production in gardens and on farms. You can do your country no better service than to show now, through your efforts, your ability to become productive citizens."

Merrill of Roxbury, who subscribes for 125 shares of preferred and 9 shares of common stock. HOTT.

LOWELL CASES IN SUPERIOR COURT

Lowell cases disposed of at yesterday's criminal session of the superior court at East Cambridge were, as follows:

Joseph Snay, charged with receiving stolen property and violation of the jitney bus regulations, was found guilty on both counts and was ordered to pay fines of $20 and $10.

Matthew J. Mevis, charged with the larceny of $600 from John M. Gallagher was placed on probation after it was announced that full restitution had been made. Mevis was employed as a conductor for the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company in this city and while riding in the car last week he is alleged to have stolen a bag containing $600 which had been left behind by Gallagher, another employee of the company. Mevis was found guilty of larceny at the last session of the superior court, but sentence was postponed until yesterday.

Charles W. Lombard, charged with assault and battery on his wife and also on Frederick A. Bond was found guilty on both counts and a fine of $25 was imposed in the first case, while the second case was placed on file. The case of Henry J. Ginegas, charged with larceny from Favreau Bros., which opened for trial Tuesday, was not finished at the time of adjournment yesterday and was resumed this morning.

BECHARD'S DEATH DUE TO GAS POISONING

Rémi Bechard, aged 55 years, was found dead in his room at 10 Read street late yesterday afternoon, death being due to gas poisoning. Miss Bertha Bechard, a daughter of deceased, detected the odor of gas at about 4:30 o'clock and traced it to her father's room and when she opened the door she found his body stretched across the bed, life extinct. Medical Examiner T. B. Smith after viewing the body ordered it removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Joseph Albert. Deceased was employed as a gate tender for the B. & M. and is survived by three daughters, Bertha and Yvonne Bechard of this city and Mrs. R. Sawyer of Boston; a son, Albert and a brother, William of this city.

A Friend Worth Knowing

We make many acquaintances, some of which develop into friendship, but not all prove themselves true friends. It is just as essential that we have a reliable friend in the form of a medicine as a personal friend, so that when we are afflicted with various ailments we can have something we can absolutely depend upon.

The next time you have any stomach, liver or kidney trouble, and you are not already acquainted with the wonderful remedy of SEVEN BARKS, nature's remedy of roots and herbs, we urge you to give it a trial, and we will predict that it will be one of your most valuable friends from a medical standpoint.

For nearly half a century SEVEN BARKS has been a valuable and trustworthy friend to all sufferers of stomach and liver disorders. A trial will quickly prove its wonder efficiency, and after that you will never be without it, and gladly recommend it to your friends.

Doctors with three days run into money fast, and can often be saved if you will but keep on hand a bottle of SEVEN BARKS, the old-fashioned remedy that our parents and grandparents used to keep their families rugged and well.

If you want a friend that will stand by you in time of need, ask your druggists for SEVEN BARKS. Price but 50 cents per bottle, enough to last a long time—Adv.

THEIR ANNUAL ENTERTAINMENT

Excellent Program Given
by Pupils of St. Patrick's
Boys' School

Capacity Audience at Lowell
Opera House—Afternoon
Performance for Children

At the Lowell Opera House last evening a very large audience attended the exercises incident to the closing of St. Patrick's Boys' school. It was the 25th annual entertainment of the school which, under the guidance of Rt. Rev. William O'Brien with the Xaverian Brothers as teachers, is yearly growing in importance and efficiency in educational work. The entertainment was chiefly musical and dramatic and it gave the members of the class an opportunity to display their talents in various lines. Their work was highly creditable not only to themselves, but also to their devoted teachers. In the 2-act comedy presented, the performance was carried out with a degree of skill and smoothness that won great applause.

Last night's entertainment was for the benefit of the school-book fund and its success was quite gratifying to Rev. Brother Nilus, C.P.X., the principal, as well as to all the other teachers and friends of the school. Mr. Charles Norman Sladen was the musical instructor for the choir; Mr. John J. Quinn, dramatic instructor, and Rev. Brother Nilus, accompanist.

In its varied character, the program was all that could be desired, including as it did musical selections by the choir, solos, recitations, a musical comedy sketch, a cantata, a one-act comic opera, and a two-act comedy entitled "The Turn in the Road." All of the 23 members of St. Patrick's academy class of 1920 and the 35 members of the graduating class of the grammar school, had parts in the entertainment. Each year these exercises precede the presentation of the diplomas in the church on the following Sunday.

The boys of the fifth grade, dressed in overalls and large straw hats, as Uncle Sam's farmer boys, were very pleasing and the Sinn Féiner's march by the boys of the sixth and seventh grades "carried the house" from the first appearance of the participants upon the stage. The recitation by the Irish Coast" and the solo by John Spillane, "My Wild Irish Rose," were very creditable numbers and, in fact, each and every number was excellent.

The young actors entered into the spirit of the comedy with a freedom of action and spontaneity seldom shown by players of their years. The audience applauded the young players and soloists to the echo.

The program:

Overture, Orchestra

a—The Song of the Vikings, E. Flanagan
b—Jerusalem Chorus, Gailia, Gounod
Sanctuary Choir
Accompanist, William Paul McCarthy.

The marriage of Mr. Edward F. McLaughlin and Miss Catherine E. Donnelly took place last evening at St. Michael's rectory, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Francis J. Mullin. Mr. Samuel Wood acted as best man, while the bridesmaid was Miss Mabel O'Connor. The couple will make their home at 91 Third street.

The Pawtucket Congregational church in Mammoth road was last evening the scene of a pretty wedding when Mr. Clarence Lewis Hildreth and Miss Grace Anna Mansfield, two well known young people of this city, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. A. G. Lyon in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Helen L. Mansfield as maid of honor, and Miss Marlon M. Section as bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. Frederick W. Jordan. The ushers were Messrs. Alfred Cady, John Drescher, Edward R. Bailey and Jefferson R. Mansfield. At the close of the ceremony a brief reception was held at the home of the bride, 12 White st., and later the couple left on a wedding trip. Upon their return they will make their home at 20 Viola st.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Francis J. Merritt and Miss Mary F. Flanagan were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at St. Peter's rectory by Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan. The bride wore white georgette with hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Julia A. Flanagan, who was attired in pink organdy and pink hat and carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. William A. Merritt. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 55 Lincoln street and present were guests from Amesbury, Haverhill, East Jeffrey and Worcester. After a wedding trip through the White mountains the couple will make their home in this city.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Ralph Rhodes Smith and Miss Florence Mabel Nickles were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Walter E. Woodbury, pastor of the Worthen Street Baptist church at his home, 237 Rogers street. The best man

Reduce Weight Easily Now

Do you wish to become slender, graceful, healthier, happier? Eat all you need, but chew your food thoroughly, and be happy while following easy Korean system obtainable in box at drug store. Purposed to aid in reducing fat in any part of the body. Reduce whatever you need (10 to 60 lbs.) under $100.00 money-refund guarantee or no cost to you.

Reduce puffy abdomen, double chin, large limbs, obese hips and other overcast parts of the body. Even a few days of Korean system (pronounced kor-ee-sun) has been reported to show noticeable reduction in weight. No thyroid, no exhausting exercise, no starvation dieting, no banding—a genuine reduction method approved by physicians. Foremost because fat is the main enemy of the body in its overcast state, and in its reduction, which is a natural process, the body's own resources are used to reduce the fat. Get Korean at any drug store. Show others the difference!

Your Children Need Laxative!

The children need your closest attention, especially after "stuffing" themselves with sweets, etc., at a party or the like. They are liable to get up in the morning complaining of cramps, bad tasting mouth, liable to have pulled eyes from restless slumber, feel tired and cranky, distempored and whining. Act promptly. Give them a dose of Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, which millions of mothers were given by their parents, and who themselves are administering today, to their little ones. Only the purest of herbs are used—no harmful drugs—will relieve pleasantly the ordinary cases of children's illness, constipation—worms, etc. Symptoms of Worms: Constipation, deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short and rough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

Mrs. Wm. G. Bonin of Caddo, Oklahoma, wrote regarding Dr. True's Elixir: "We have used it for our children for the last 12 years, and certainly know the value of it."

Clean Up Poison Soaked Kidneys Advises Dr. Carey

Thousands Die Every Year Because They Allow Poisonous Deposits To Accumulate in Kidneys

Don't flush your kidneys with harsh medicines, says Dr. Carey; they are too frail and delicately constructed to treat them rough. For 40 years I have been prescribing Marshroot for kidney and bladder sickness and have retired from active practice. I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price. It has conquered thousands of cases of kidney and bladder diseases and is the medicine you can always depend upon. IMPORTANT—Dr. Daniel G. Carey has been a practicing physician for many years and his great prescription, "Marshroot," has cured thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. It is not a patent medicine and is only sold through drug stores in order to accommodate his patients. Fred Howard, 167 Central St., can supply you.—Adv.

For Interior Walls

Sanitary Flat produces on walls a beautiful, soft, velvety, flat surface, not equalled by the finest tapestry papers. It is the most sanitary treatment of interior walls because it contains no poisonous colors, has no decaying paste underneath, and offers no lodging place for germs. It can be washed and it is easy to put on.

For children's rooms, nursery, kitchen, pantry, laundry and servants' rooms, use Sanitary Gloss Enamel, the twin sister of Sanitary Flat. Sanitary Gloss Enamel produces an enamel-like surface which is ideal for rooms of this character. It is provided in a number of delicate tints. Its hard, glossy surface offers no lodging place for dirt, and makes it extremely easy to clean. It will stand many washings. Like Sanitary Flat, it is lacking in any poisonous colors or pigment.

Railway officials say the circus is the largest and away the biggest that has ever been transported over their lines. The trains will be met by the showmen's agents who are in the city today making final arrangements for the unloading of the "white tops." One of the novelties is the "24-hour man." He will keep the circus the various superintendents and their men. Then will begin the tremendous task of moving the contents of the trains in the circus grounds. It is said that those who have seen in time to watch this operation will witness the unloading of the greatest amount of paraphernalia and animals than any other circus. There is the largest number of wagons, horses and animals that have ever visited this city. The elephants numbered practically all the trained pachyderms in the circus world. A gigantic "sun-eater herd" of these is used on the entertainment program. There are a total of eight giraffes. Herds rather than single "families" of animals are now introduced in the menagerie.

MORE OF SISTER MARY'S OWN RECIPES

In the kitchen of her own home, Sister Mary cooks daily for a family of four adults. She brought to her kitchen an understanding of the chemistry of cooking, gained from study of domestic science in a state university. Consequently the advice she offers is a happy combination of theory and practice. Every recipe she gives is her own, first tried out and served at her family table.

(Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.)
At first thought a cup of hot consommé or bouillon seems out of place in the summer diet. But when we think again and get down to brass tacks we see that the hot soup is really the best stimulant for a sultry summer day.

The digestive organs must be toned to the point where they will respond quickly to food. The hot soup does this. It also induces perspiration, which in turn causes evaporation. One of the most effective means of cooling the body is through evaporation.

After the digestive system is at work, solid food is readily assimilated and chilled salads and ices are not disturbing.

Menu for Tomorrow
Breakfast—Stewed dried apricots, poached eggs on toast, coffee.
Luncheon—Clam bouillon, toasted crackers, pineapple pie, tea.
Dinner—Halibut steaks, shoe string potatoes, stuffed green peppers, roman salad, junket ice cream, sponge cake, coffee.

My Own Recipes
Halibut is delicious broiled, broiled, baked or fried. In hot weather the quickest way to cook meat or fish is the best. Fish cut in fillets crumbed and fried in deep fat is always nice to serve, but hot to prepare. Halibut broiled in the steak and brushed with lemon butter is a dainty morsel and appropriate for summer.

CLAM BOUILLON
4 quarts clams
3 cups cold water.
Wash and scrub clams with a brush, changing the water several times. Put in a kettle with the cold water, cover tightly and steam until the shells open. Strain through two thicknesses of cheese cloth. Serve very hot.
PINEAPPLE PIE
4 tablespoons grated pineapple.
1/2 cup sugar.
1 cup pineapple juice.
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 egg.
Let sugar, pineapple and juice cook for two minutes. Dilute cornstarch to a smooth paste with cold water and add. Cook, stirring constantly, until the whole is transparent. Add egg yolk well beaten. Turn into a baked pie crust, cover with the white of the egg beaten stiff and dry with 1 tablespoon of sugar. Brown in a hot oven.

Tone Up Your Stomach

There is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for every other part of the body. But the stomach depends, as does every other organ, on the blood for its energy.
There can be no perfect digestion without rich, red blood. This is scientifically true. The way then to tone up the stomach is to enrich the blood. If your digestion is off and your blood is thin there can be no question about it. You need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to restore the condition of your blood, use care in the selection of your diet and the stomach will take care of itself.

Stomach trouble is "debilitating." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic and build up the blood generally.

Most stomach remedies try to digest your food for you. How much better it is to tone up the stomach so that it will do its own work as nature intended. There is no pleasure in eating predigested food. Tone up your stomach and your appetite and digestion will soon be normal.

A booklet, "What To Eat and How To Eat," which tells about this treatment, will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.—Adv.

1000 INDIANS WERE MASSACRED BY BRITISH

NEW YORK, June 23.—Firing by soldiers commanded by British army officers upon a crowd of unarmed natives of India who were seeking to present to a British deputy commissioner a petition for the release of two of their leaders led a few days later to the massacre of 1000 Indians trapped in a great square at Amritsar, in the Punjab district of India in the spring of 1919, says a report now made public by native investigators. The

Piles Are Absorbed Never to Return

Says Any Sufferer Who Tries Miro Internal Treatment Will Find This Treatment True
Mrs. E. Walhelen of Dayton, O., writes: "Regarding your wonderful discovery, Miro, I tried almost every kind of pile remedy on the market, and about Miro and after taking one bottle can truthfully say I am entirely cured. There is no pile-remedy on the market to compare with Miro. I can't praise it enough and the price is so small compared to its wonderful merits. Anybody afflicted with piles who tries a bottle will find this statement true." The discoverer of Miro desires all sufferers to know that he doesn't want a cent of anyone's money unless Miro Pile Remedy conquers even the worst cases and he has instructed druggists all over the country to guarantee it in every instance. Ask Fred Howard about it. He sells lots of it.—Adv.

report was prepared by the Punjab sub-committee of the Indian national congress. In its preparation more than 1700 witnesses were examined and depositions taken from survivors and relatives of the dead.
Dissatisfaction among the natives first became apparent with the passage of the Rowlett bills, designed to punish sedition.
All over the country resolutions were passed by huge mass meetings protesting against the law and demanding its repeal.
The trouble between natives and officials, the report states, began in earnest on the night of April 9, when two influential natives, Drs. Kitchlew and Satyapal, were arrested and their friends heard they were to be deported.

CALLS SUFFRAGE SESSION

Tennessee Governor Complies With President Wilson's Request

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 24.—Gov. Roberts of Tennessee announced last night that he would comply with the desire of President Wilson that a special session of the Tennessee legislature be called to act on the federal suffrage amendment.
The legislature will be called to meet, the governor said, in plenty of time to vote in the November election provided ratification of the suffrage amendment is completed through favorable action by Tennessee.

Good for Party

WASHINGTON, June 24.—President Wilson last night sent a telegram to Gov. Roberts of Tennessee urging that a special session of the Tennessee legislature be called to act on the federal suffrage amendment.

The President in his telegram said: "It would be a real service to the party and to the nation if it is possible for you under the peculiar provision of your state constitution, having in mind the recent decision of the supreme court in the Ohio case, to call a special session of the legislature of Tennessee to consider the suffrage amendment. Allow me to urge this very earnestly."

The state constitution of Tennessee has a provision prohibiting action by the legislature taking the action has been chosen at an election in which the proposed amendment was an issue. Some legal authorities have been quoted as holding that such a provision was invalidated by the supreme court's recent decision in the Ohio referendum case.

RECEIVED COMMUNION

The 1920 graduating class of the Sacred Heart school received communion in a body at the 7 o'clock mass at the Sacred Heart church yesterday and later enjoyed a communion breakfast in the school hall. Rev. John P. Flynn, O.S.B., the pastor, celebrated the mass and also spoke at

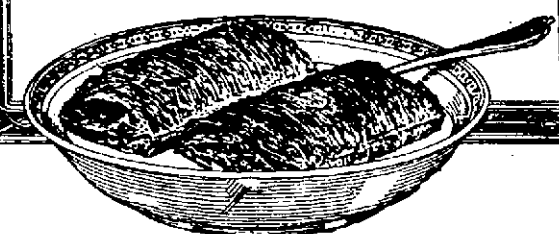

NO WHITE WAY FOR DAVIS SQUARE

Lack of funds will prevent the serious consideration of a petition from residents of the Davis Square section of the city for a continuation of the white way system of lighting in that vicinity, Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy says. He was to have held a hearing on the matter before the entire municipal council, but he says such action would be futile in view of the lighting appropriation which remains for the rest of the year. The commissioner believes that there is a very urgent need for improved lighting conditions in both that and other sections of the city and he will make an effort to have lights of some kind installed this year, but for the present, any further extension of the white way system is out of the question.

SAVES FUEL AND SUGAR

The problems of house-keeping in these troublous times are lightened by serving Shredded Wheat Biscuit, a real whole wheat food, ready-cooked and ready-to-eat. Contains the natural sweetness of the whole wheat berry with all the elements necessary to sustain strength at top-notch efficiency. Two of these crisp little loaves of baked whole wheat with hot milk or cream (or hot water and butter) make a satisfying, strengthening meal at a cost of a few cents.

EMBROIDERY AND THE VOILE FROCK

BY CORA MOORE

New York's Fashion Authority
NEW YORK, June 24.—Any summer afternoon should feel flattered by the appearance of this effective frock under its sunny sky.

It is cream-colored voile—very fine voile, to be sure, and it is embroidered in soft brown, a regular wood shade, with just an occasional thread of russet green. Silk of the same two shades along with the embroidered motifs are involved in making the belt. A cream georgette hat, trimmed with the wood-colored taffeta, is worn with this frock, and it's all alluringly cool looking and very, very smart, even to the sleeve ribbons.

Some African tribes pull their fingers until the points crack, as a form of salutation.

SURPRISE THE FAMILY WITH THIS DELICIOUS DESSERT

White Capped Dishes Look Tempting and Taste Better Than They Look

The daily question of what to have for dessert tonight has at last been solved and by a woman. Miss Curtis has perfected a Marshmallow Creme that is praised by every woman who ever used it.

Cake pudding covered with Snowflake Marshmallow Creme. The housewife no longer worries when she has a can of this wonderful Creme in the house. She takes a little sponge cake, spreads some Snowflake Marshmallow

Creme, and like magic she has a delicacy that will tempt the most particular. Perhaps there is nothing in the house but a little jelly or preserves; spread a little Creme, serve in individual dishes and you have another tasty surprise.

You can use Snowflake Marshmallow Creme on cereals, toast, griddle cakes, pies, cakes, prunes and in more than a hundred different ways. Send a postal with your name and address to Emma C. Curtis, Melrose, Mass., for the free booklet, "Desserts of Quality."

LEGION POST AT BUENOS AIRES

BUENOS AIRES, June 24.—The recently organized Buenos Aires post of the American Legion will be known as "Spencer Ely Post." Spencer Ely was the first American residing in Argentina to volunteer to serve his country in France and the first to fall of the Argentine contingent.

On his arrival in France, Ely joined the 165th regiment (the old fighting 50th of New York), and was killed at Chateau Thierry. After having been wounded in action he was carried to a dressing station from which he refused to be removed until more seriously wounded comrades had been taken to the rear. Before his turn came, the dressing station was blown up by a German shell.

Ely was a native of Flushing, New York and a descendant of General Schuyler, of the American Revolution. His family has resided in Buenos Aires for about 52 years.

70 BANDS IN LINE

Elaborate Floral Parade at Portland, Oregon

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 24.—The final session of the Imperial Shrine council brought to an official close today the annual celebration by the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, but most of the visitors remained for the annual Portland rose festival.

The crowning of the festival queen, an elaborate floral parade, and a massed band concert with 70 bands participating were on the day's program.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents)

THE STRAND
Viola Dana in "Dangers to Men" is one of the most interesting and entertaining screen plays in which this popular star has ever appeared. It is a story of the drama "Eliza Comes to Town" and the screen possibilities reveal many entertaining phases of the story. Miss Dana appears as Eliza, the orphan girl who at 18 years is thrust into a bachelor's household as his ward. She was an only daughter but she grew in charm until she was considered "dangerous." It is a role that gives Miss Dana the real opportunity of her career. Few actresses can give such perfect versatility as the star. First as a tom boy school girl and later as a dangerous siren. She has a capable cast assisting her.

Shirley Mason's newest film success is "Love's Harvest" and has to do with love and the stage in Paris and New York. First a girl finds herself the victim of her father's cruel legacy in being bequeathed, like any piece of property, to a man she had never seen; and later she has to choose between her obligations to a man who really loves her for herself alone. Miss Mason's impersonation is delightfully poignant, with moments of convincing seriousness and dramatic force. A new comedy and weekly is also shown.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Wallace Reid, noted funmaker of the screen, features the program at today, Friday and Saturday. In one of his most entertaining productions, "Sick Ahead," Don't gather from the title that "Sick Ahead" is a sad story. Wallie is the liveliest fellow that ever had a thermometer between his lips. According to the picture, he's just shamming illness to protect a friend who is mixed up in marital difficulties. And his sick room is as jazzy as a Broadway party. Bobe Daniels acting as his nurse. The other feature for the week-end is Dorothy Gish in "Remodeling Her Hands," another entertaining production. A comedy, the International News and a Burton Holmes travel picture round out the bill.

OWL THEATRE
There is a complete change in program at the Owl theatre today for the latter half of the week. The main features will be the two fine photoplays, together with a splendid array of shorter reels, making one of the biggest and best shows in as cool and clean a theatre as you can find in the state.

The leading feature of the double bill is Lucy Colton, late star of "The Mystery of the Yellow Room" in her latest photoplay, "Blind Love." The story is by Max Marcin, author of "Eyes of Youth," and it is fully up to his best work. Don't fail to see it. The other feature will be Charles Ray in "The Pink Flitter," a story of college baseball in which Charles has his local part that of a caddy country youth.

Have you entered the Kaleogram contest yet? The funny old bird spells five words, which make up the name of a star and a picture. It's easy if you look it over carefully, and you'll get two seats for the coming week. The attraction for this coming week, by the way, is Louise Glaum in "Sex," a story that has received nothing but praise from the big town critics. It is startling, lavish and has a tremendous story to it. And the gowns worn in it are simply wonderful. The peacock spider dress worn by Miss Glaum alone cost a small fortune. This attraction will stay all week.

LAKEVIEW PARK
One of the joys of living is to be able to go out to the lake on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The amusement park and the lake are open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and a few hours in the open. After-Doyle's has some especially good music this year, and you can have all the fun you want at a minimum of expense.

Defies Age by Using Howard's Buttermilk Cream for Complexion

This Pretty Girl Tells Druggists Not to Take Anyone's Money Unless This Delightful New Vanishing Cream Quickly Shows a Decided Improvement.

Buttermilk Cream creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the palest, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crows feet or lines around the mouth, ugly finger nails, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream. Carter & Sherburne Co., Fred Howard, 125 Central St., can supply you. Manufacturers, Howard Bros. Chemical Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

playing of "The Lowell High School March," written by the late Walter E. Owen and played at the high school commencement exercises more than a quarter of a century ago. The march had been presented in manuscript form to the school by Mrs. Owen, and many of the older people in the audience recalled with a feeling of pleasure the memories aroused by familiar strains.

The annual award of Carney medals for the three boys and three every opportunity for immediate financial advancement in the outside world, as one of the evening's speakers pointed out, and also to the fact that a program embracing several novel features as well as all the anticipated numbers of bygone years was presented.

The orator of the occasion, Hon. Jeremiah E. Burke, assistant superintendent of Boston schools, brought out in language in which beauty and force vied for dominance, the need of linking the past and the present if the highest ideals of the republic were to be maintained, and this theme seemed to run through the evening's entire program. One of the most striking exemplifications of stepping into the past was the orchestra's girls who led their class in high character and scholarship, was another feature linking the past with the present, as Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, who presented the medals, explained. For years, these medals have been presented at each graduation and as each succeeding class sends forth its leaders to receive such awards, they immediately become members of a great company extending far into the past. The Carney medal winners this year were, Mildred Thelma Manning, Lorna Howes Shaw, Millie Jessie Sandler, Victor Brock Darling, James Warren Flood and Raymond Joseph Crowley.

Honorable mention for scholarship was awarded Alice Clark Bolton,

Grace Gertrude Sheehan and Harry Louis McDonough.

Washington-Franklin Medal

An entirely new feature of high school graduation programs was the presentation of a Washington-Franklin medal to the student who excelled in the study of American history during the year, by the Massachusetts society of the Sons of the American Revolution. Burton H. Wiggin, vice president of the society, presented the 1920 medal to Alice Clark Bolton, and explained that the purpose of the presentation was to foster the study of American history and the ideals which it embraces. Honorable mention was given the following for their work in this subject: Gertrude Teresa Fay, Mildred Thelma Manning, Nelda Laura Cross, Walter Edmund Mountain, Jr., Thomas Varnum, Jr., Verda Elizabeth Huntley, Louise Adelaide Fay, Maurice Joseph Edward Powers, Anna Synicjous Mulligan, Bruce Earl Kimball, Marie Crescence Parthenais and Gladys Vera Putnam. A similar medal will be awarded each year, from now on.

This year's class gift was a large silk American flag presented to the school on behalf of the class of 1920 by Francis Fay O'Donnell, class president. It was accepted by Chairman Thomas B. Delaney of the school committee, who said that he felt sure that the class of 1920 would ever remember the ideals of patriotism which the sight of the banner inspires.

Especially excellent this year, were the salutatory and valedictory addresses. Mildred Thelma Manning, salutatorian, chose for her theme, "The American Indian in the War," and brought to her declamation entire confidence, a well modulated voice and a depth of material that could have resulted only from persistent research. She told of the splendid part played by the Indian in the world war, both on the battlefield and on the reservations at home. The valedictory, "The Menace of Materialism," delivered by Victor Brock Darling, again brought out the excellent elocutionary training received at the high school under the direction of Miss Mary C. Joyce. Mr. Darling gave to a timely subject mature and well thought-out treatment. Mayor Perry D. Thompson for the third time had the honor of presenting the diplomas. He prefaced the presentation with congratulatory remarks to the parents of the graduates who, he said, were deserving of special felicitation because of the fact they had kept their children in school during years when the temptation to seek financial advancement in the outside world was most flattering. To the graduates he said that not only the hundreds who were present at the evening's exercises but hundreds of thousands all over the country were expecting much from them or from graduates like them.

Hon. Jeremiah E. Burke

Hon. Jeremiah E. Burke, the speaker of the evening, spoke on the topic, "Our Educational Heritage." He emphasized the need of linking the past with the present, of preserving the ideals of democracy established by the founders of the republic, of giving to children their rights, especially the right of an education.

In opening, he told of the old Irish legend of the great O'Donoghue, who died far from his native land and whose body was brought back and buried in an unfrequented glen near his beloved Killarney. There was a tradition, Mr. Burke said, that when his country should need him, O'Donoghue would rise and lead his embattled hosts against the enemy. That legend might seem strange and fantastic, he said, but it was true that the spirits of the great guide a nation and that the spirit of the past abided in the present and guided the future.

"So in this period of reconstruction," he continued, "we must not forget our indebtedness to the past. There have been instances where nations have broken with the past with unfortunate results. The promoters of the French revolution, following their leader, Rousseau, broke with the traditions of the past. They changed the names of the days of the week and installed a decimal system of counting days. The result was the reign of terror in France.

"On more recent days we have seen an illustration of a great nation for-

CHALIFOUX SPRINKLER SYSTEM TESTED

Chalifoux's water curtain formed by an outside sprinkler system was tested at 12:15 o'clock today, with Fire Chief Saunders and other department men on hand to watch it. The fact that the volume of water which fell to the pavement was sufficient to seep in through show windows attested to its efficiency. Attaches of the store checked up on out-of-order sprinklers while the test was in progress and any such notice will be investigated and put in working condition. The test was considered highly satisfactory.

Try Magnesia for Stomach Trouble

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried peppermint, bismuth, soda, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble. In some cases do not even give relief. But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little bisulphated magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bisulphated magnesia, which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets of the powder in water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little bisulphated magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the bisulphated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion. getting the story of Alexander, of Caesar, of Hannibal, and blended with power Prussia conceived the notion of building a state founded on militarism. Bismark said that the schoolmaster was abroad in the land. It was true, but the schoolmaster was the servant of the state, obedient to the state, doing the will of the state. As a result of his work, the German people came to believe that all nations were against them. The result was the perpetration of the great atrocities of the world war.

"The cause of the world war was the false philosophy and the false educational system of the German people. The founders of this republic did not break with the past. Back in the early days of the Mayflower compact the traditions of the past were remembered and the war of '76 was an evolution rather than a revolution. The colonists were then declaring only their rights as British citizens. In independence hall they proclaimed the old, old truth that all men and women are created equal—not equal or similar physically or in intellectual capacity, it is true—but equal before the law. Equality before the law began equality of privilege and from equality of privilege came forth equality of opportunity.

"Then our forefathers took another step. They said that all men were endowed with certain inalienable rights—life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Not the liberty given them by a kaiser, but the liberty that came from their Creator. These rights are God-like and belong to all. Nobody can take them from me nor I from anybody else. We hear a great deal in these days about the rights of men and the rights of women. These are right and proper and have our sympathy, but too few of us stand forth on the public platform and proclaim the rights of children—of boys and girls.

They are just as inalienable and God-given as the rights of men and women.

"What are these rights? They are the right to grow and develop, to acquire physical, intellectual and spiritual habits; the right to be trained under the most competent guidance to the highest possible position compatible with their ability to the end that they may perform their duties in society and enjoy to the full their privileges of freedom.

"Ideal, these rights are, you say, yes, and so are all rights ideal. But if you deny these rights to children you are thwarting democracy.

"A child has the right to physical development so that he may be prepared for the storms and stress of life. He has the right to intellectual development that he may acquire the habit of thought and dispassionate thinking on the problems which may confront him—that he may have the great fourth dimension, the power of right thinking. The child has a right to spiritual and moral habits. He should possess integrity, sincerity, straightforwardness so that though he may err later in life, he will be brought back by the irresistible force of these habits to the harbor of safety.

"Boys and girls cannot acquire these habits overnight. They don't come like a morning dream or like a windfall. They must be built up by practice day after day until the child responds automatically to the beautiful things in life.

"Another step which the founders of this republic took was in the preamble of the constitution when they said something like this: 'To insure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and posterity we do ordain and establish this constitution of the United States of America.' They were wise, foresighted men. They saw the need of protecting our liberty. Liberty is not a warrior. Liberty is delicate and needs a protector, a champion on whom to rely. So our forefathers put liberty under the patronage and direction of law. But law may be amiss at times so our fathers set up three branches of government, the legislative, executive and judicial, each acting as a check on the other. These three great departments were set up to see that law protected liberty. But back of it all stands the will of the people and the voice of the people should be the voice of God. Sometimes, it is not, but it is true that in every great crisis the hand of God has seemed to point out the way and the people have reverently followed it. "So long as the will of the people is in accord with the eternal laws of God, any man who raises his hand against constitutional authority injures not only his country but blasphemes the great Law-giver. Let us then protect the law. Here is where the teacher plays his or her part. It is the teacher who trains the will of the people."

The speaker then told of what the teacher is doing at the present time to inspire the highest ideals of citizenship in pupils and how the heroes of the great wars of this country are being remembered in the school room.

In closing, he said: "Let us have no

AN IMPORTANT DECISION

One of the most important court decisions handed down in a labor case for many years was that recently delivered at Rochester, N. Y., in the suit of Michael Stern & Co. against the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and Sidney Hillman, their president. It appears that the Amalgamated union organized a strike in the factory of the plaintiff company and made some very serious threats, one of which was that the strike leaders would put the plaintiffs out of business and would not call the strike off until the company had turned over the keys of their factory to the Amalgamated union.

Another feature of the case was, that Amalgamated workers were in open conflict with the United Garment Workers of America and endeavored to oust the latter from any control in the plaintiff's factory. The court granted a permanent injunction against the Amalgamated, prohibiting the organization or any of its officers or members from calling strikes or picketing the shops of the plaintiffs or otherwise interfering with their legitimate business. In addition to granting this injunction the court ruled that the plaintiffs are entitled to collect damages from the defendant union, the amount to be determined in the trial of another suit. The firm had already sued for $100,000 damages.

This injunction suit was fought by able lawyers on both sides, and the decision promises to establish a precedent that will be quite as important perhaps as that of the Ducks Stove and Range case, or in the still more celebrated case of the Danbury haters.

The decision at the present juncture is regarded as very important inasmuch as similar suits may be brought by corporations in other parts of the country to restrain unions from forcing their recognition upon manufacturers. The question of recognition of the Amalgamated union was the main issue that caused the original trouble complained of in the Rochester case. The outcome of the damage suit will be watched with interest.

PHILIPPINE INDEPENDENCE

In this country at the present time is a very able delegation of Filipinos whose mission is to plead for the independence of their people. These men appeared before the republican platform committee at Chicago to present their claim for independence under an agreement, or pledge of the United States, that the Philippines should have their independence just as soon as a stable government was established.

Under the Jones law enacted in 1916, a stable government has been established and the Filipinos have made splendid use of it. The progress of the people since the United States took charge of the islands has been remarkable. They have readily availed themselves of the educational opportunities, depending not only upon their own ancient university of Manila, but going to universities in this and other countries in order to bring themselves up to the level of the most progressive peoples in the world. In this respect they have succeeded to an extent far surpassing the expectations of Americans. They are truly grateful to the United States, but still they have a yearning for the day when they will be an independent and sovereign republic.

The democratic party in its platform of 1916 favored ultimate independence of the Philippine Islands. Indeed we believe that no political party has ever had any other intention. The only condition is, that the people shall be able to conduct their own affairs, capably, direct their government and fulfill all their international obligations.

Francis Burton Harrison who has been governor of the islands for six years has endorsed the claims of the people for independence, saying that they are fully competent and prepared to assume the sovereign control of their government and to direct their future destinies. The only difficulty in the way, apparently would be that there might be some doubt as to the ability of the islands to preserve their freedom against foreign aggression. To provide for their safety in this respect some international arrangement would be necessary similar to that enjoyed by Cuba or a protectorate agreed to by all the great nations.

The Filipinos may not secure their independence this or even next year; but of this they may rest assured, that it is bound to come in the near future. Meantime they serve their own cause best by doing everything possible to promote the stability of their government together with the education and general prosperity of their people.

BACK TO NORMAL

A great many people are asking, "when will prices become normal again?" In the sense of "normal" 20 pounds for $1.00, 20 cents for a pound, and the wages of a laboring man averaging about a dollar a day, it is doubtful if they ever return again. The world has changed a long way from the conditions that were familiar enough to people who are middle-aged today.

The word normal is after all largely relative. In the morning it was once normal to be able to buy commodities at the prices that have been named above, and it was also normal then for men to have to work for small pay and then, rather too often, go without an opportunity to work at all. If normal conditions mean conditions under which the largest number of people are constantly employed

Speaking at the centenary exercises of the Harvard law school, Charles Evans Hughes said, "passion for legislation is not a sign of democratic progress," and referred to our tendency as a nation to pass too many and too uncertain laws as a "regrettable thing."

Year after year our state and national legislatures go on piling enactment on top of enactment apparently on the theory that if there is something in the community that demands a change or reform, that end can be secured instantly by passing a law. Then the law gets printed in the statute books and there, in altogether too many cases, it remains a dead letter.

Ten years ago the Massachusetts legislature passed a law governing certain phases of advertising stocks for sale. For a decade neither state officials nor stock sellers paid the slightest attention to the law. It was violated unnumbered times. Then a short time ago the attorney general, anxious to make a grandstand play, had a few Boston stockbrokers taken into the court under the act. They were given nominal fines by a judge, who stated from the bench that he could not regard as serious offenses that were charged under a law that had been in disuse for ten years.

Our own Massachusetts legislature, is said to pass more legislation every year than the British parliament which legislates for the whole empire.

We probably could not get along without our legislative bodies, but one cannot help wondering if we should not be just as well off if they would all refrain from enacting any more laws for a few years and give us a chance to digest and make some effort to enforce the laws we already have.

The two defeated candidates for the republican gubernatorial nomination in Maine say they will give the successful candidate their support, but from this distance and at this time it looks as though one, and perhaps both of them were getting ready to set the old grindstone in operation to sharpen the knives for use in September.

The Boston board of street commissioners says that what it calls "jay-walking in the streets" is the right of every free-born American and cannot be penalized. Nevertheless, the penalty often appears sooner or later in the shape of an accident in which the "jay-walker" gets the worst of it.

Nicholas Murray Butler, who says that he is "sorry for everyone who felt hurt" by what he said about General Wood's supporters being gamblers, stock manipulators and malefactors of great wealth generally, might reflect that it is only the truth after all that usually hurts very much.

The republicans who are rejoicing over the possibility of factional differences developing at San Francisco might profitably recall General Butler's famous dictum, "The more fighting the more democrats."

Here's strength to the arms of the officials of the federal department of justice in their crusade against the parlor "Roids"—the most dangerous of their kind.

Our newspaper neighbor speaks of Greenfield as being "proud of its distinguished citizen, Calvin Coolidge." What has Northampton to say about this?

Then the married guest went home and found hubby waiting for his supper.

"Amelia, my angel," he snapped, "it's about time you did get home! I want some tea!"

"Don't you ever think of anything except eating, darling?" asked the wife, with a sour look.

"Don't talk like an idiot, little sugar plum; I'm hungry!" was the reply.

"Well, ducky, you've been hungry before, and I expect you'll be hungry again, so you needn't be disagreeable about it. And don't you dare call me an idiot, butkins, I don't like it."

CUTS PRICE OF LIGHT AND RAISES WORKERS' PAY

BOSTON, June 24.—An increase of 10 per cent. in the pay of all its employees, effective July 1, has been granted by the Edison Electric Illuminating company of Boston. It was announced today. About 2000 workers will benefit by the increase.

Simultaneously the company will grant a 5 per cent. reduction in the cost of electricity to its retelling customers. The reduction will affect approximately 110,000 customers.

The island of Manhattan, in New York City, contains 2,254,903 population.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Eighty-five years ago today, with sun shining, people cheering and flags flying, the first train over the Boston and Lowell railroad made its trip from Boston to this city. It was a curious-looking train with its small cars built like stage coaches and its tin-kettle locomotive made in England and named George Stephenson. It brought its passengers safely to Lowell, however, in the comparatively short time of an hour and a quarter and the fare was only $1. This was the first steam railroad in New England and one of the earliest to be opened in the United States. It was not, however, the first New England railroad. That had been opened some years previous, running from the granite quarries in West Quincy to tide water near the mouth of the Neponset river. It was built to transport the blocks of granite that were used in building Bunker Hill monument. Its cars were drawn by horses. Near the east Milton station of the West Quincy branch of the New Haven railroad there is now an interesting relic of the first railroad in America that can be seen by anyone who cares to take the trouble to visit the place. It is one of the granite frogs, or cross-overs, that were used on the first railroad. Deep channels have been chiseled across the top for the wheels of the cars to run in, and there are bolt holes that indicate how the rails of strap iron were attached to the surface. This old frog was on exhibition at the World's fair at Chicago.

The recurrence of the subject of street maintenance and the condition of the city's thoroughfares at the present time featured the assembly discussion at the chamber of commerce dinner Tuesday night in Memorial hall. In every instance it was the opinion of the speaker that the streets generally have never been in such poor condition. President Goodell voiced the only remedy, to our mind, when he said that some day the city of Lowell will have to go before the state legislature with the request to borrow money for street building if the roads are to be made navigable. As the streets stand today, one hardly can turn off Westford, Middlesex, Gorham or any number of other main thoroughfares without striking a roadbed that is pitted with holes and dangerous to traffic Chelmsford street from Westford to Stevens is in a deplorable condition and those who seek to avoid this stretch by going out Westford and turning into Stevens on that end, run into the same spring-breaking surface. With no permanent repair gangs at work and no money to build on, where are we going to end?

Mayor Thompson has had a much more difficult task selecting a properly qualified charter commission than most of us realize, I think. The restrictions placed upon him by the terms of the legislative resolve providing for such a commission necessarily made the job a slow one. In the first place, he had to choose one man from each ward in the city and then six at large. It happened that a dozen or more men excellently qualified for places on the commission by reason of their broad knowledge of municipal affairs and their lack of definite prejudice for or against any one form of charter all lived in the same ward. Of course, the mayor could not choose them all. In other wards he found a dearth of available material sometimes because the ward was made up largely of foreign-speaking residents. Another restriction placed upon the mayor by the resolve was that the commission be as nearly bipartisan in character as possible—that is, made up of seven members of one party and eight of another. This, at times, prevented an otherwise qualified man from being chosen. A self-imposed restriction which the mayor endeavored to follow out in choosing the commission was that nobody at present attached to city hall should have a place on the body as he believed a more impartial attitude could be brought to the task confronting the commission by those outside the immediate pale of municipal activities.

sons arrested in the raids and ordered deported were entitled to be discharged from custody.

The defendants, who included William T. Colyer and his wife, Amy, both of English birth, had brought their cases before the court through habeas corpus proceedings.

The deportation of the defendants was ordered by the federal department of labor on the ground that they were members of the communist party. Judge Anderson, in his decision said there was no evidence to show that the party advocated the overthrow of the United States government by force and violence. The chief dependence of the communists, he said, was upon the pressure of economic force, using the weapon of the general strike, and their purpose was rather pacific than militaristic.

"The communists," he added, "seek their ends neither by bullets, bombs, bayonets nor ballots."

Judge Anderson, commenting upon the methods of agents of the department of justice, in the January raids, referred to instructions received by the Boston bureau of investigation of the department, regarding the use of "undercover informants" and continued:

"These instructions necessarily imply that the department had in these parties pretended members (of communist and communist labor party locals) having sufficient influence so that they could arrange to have meetings held on the night set for the raids. They show that the government spies were then active and influential in these prescribed parties; they were not mere on-lookers. The most that can be held is that it does not appear that the government did, through its agents, give form and color to the documents upon which the secretary of labor based his ruling. It is equally clear that no finding can be made that the government did not, through its agents, give such form and color, and thus lay a foundation that the secretary of labor has drawn against these aliens because of their membership in the communist party."

"I cannot adopt the contention that government spies are any more trustworthy, or less disposed to make trouble in order to profit therefrom, than are spies in private industry, except in time of war. Spies are necessarily drawn from the unwholesome and untrustworthy classes."

Judge Anderson said that the evidence was explicit that "out of 410 persons arrested and taken to Deer Island (in Boston harbor) warrants for 100 were not at that time outstanding." He quoted testimony of the aliens to the effect that when arrested they were not asked whether they were American citizens and, that nobody showed any authority for making the arrests.

He said that the "practical result" of a change in rules of the department of labor regarding the rights of aliens "was to cut the alien off from any representation by counsel until the inspector, co-operating with or advised by the agent of the department of justice, was of the opinion that the hearing had proceeded sufficiently in the development of the facts to protect the government's interests."

Judge Anderson said that Assistant United States Attorney Lewis Goldberg, of a change in rules of the department of labor regarding the rights of aliens "was to cut the alien off from any representation by counsel until the inspector, co-operating with or advised by the agent of the department of justice, was of the opinion that the hearing had proceeded sufficiently in the development of the facts to protect the government's interests."

at the habeas corpus hearings, "presented the government's side of the case with great ability," but that "no counsel from the departments in Washington has referred the slightest assistance on the law or the facts." He expressed appreciation of the efforts of Prof. Felix Frankfurter and Zachariah Chafee of the Harvard law school who, as "friends of the court" appeared in association with counsel for the petitioners and assisted in the presentation of evidence concerning the rights of "a large number of aliens poorly equipped with means or knowledge to protect their rights."

SALE OF POLISH BONDS

Lowell Citizens Must Come to the Front to Save Campaign

Unless Lowell citizens come to the front at once to subscribe for bonds issued by the republic of Poland, the campaign instituted in this city on May 23 to sell $100,000 worth of those securities will fail, it was announced today.

To date a little more than $40,000 has been raised with several thousand dollars in immediate prospect. But this does not bring the total even to the half-way mark and inasmuch as the drive is due to end July 6, the committee in charge feels that there should be an immediate stimulation of interest in the campaign.

So far nearly 700 residents of the city of Polish birth or descent, out of an estimated population of 1000, have purchased bonds. It is explained that many of the Polish residents here are married and usually only one bond is bought by the family, thus explaining the seeming failure of 300 people to buy bonds.

The committee in charge of the campaign feels that it now has the right to appeal to other residents of Lowell, not of Polish descent, to assist in putting the drive over the top. It is pointed out that 50 per cent of the money raised will be spent in this country to purchase machinery for the rehabilitation of Poland's farms and industries and that only 10 per cent will go across the sea. The bonds pay six per cent interest and mature in 30 years. They are purchasable at the Old Lowell National bank in amounts ranging from $50 to $500.

form. The correspondents at San Francisco are sending our reports of the same character and charging the Valera with interfering with the action of the Friends of Irish Freedom, who are represented by Judge Cahalan. Dr. McCarton, representing De Valera, had a long interview in the New York World a few days ago, charging certain men here with trying to block De Valera's mission as representing the Irish people and not any American organization.

PLANS FOR VOCATIONAL SCHOOL ADDITION

Commissioner George E. Marchand today took the plans for the new addition to the Vocational school in the Mann school building to the office of the district police for approval. Just as soon as the approval is obtained the commissioner will present an appropriation order before the municipal council of sufficient size to cover the cost of construction. This amount has not been definitely figured, but is expected to approximate $10,000, perhaps less.

The addition will be of wooden mill construction and will be built by employees of the public property department. It will be of two stories and 76 by 23 feet overall. It will allow for four new rooms, each to be 22 feet, six inches by 32 feet, 3 inches in size. On the ground floor will be an instruction room and an academic room and on the second floor, a drawing room and a finishing room. Three new openings in the present brick wall and five new windows are included in the plans.

FRENCH WAR CROSS FOR FORMER LOWELL BOY

Word has reached Lowell that Sergt. Michael J. Sullivan, formerly of this city, where he has relatives and many friends, has received a French war cross at his home in Salt Lake City, Utah, where he is employed by the Northwestern Tel. and Tel. Co.

Accompanying the croix de guerre is a special citation from General Petain for meritorious service performed while a member of M. company, 362nd Infantry, 91st Division, near Steenbrugge on Oct. 31, 1918. This citation says that Sergt. Sullivan maintained perfect liaison communication with other units while subjected to heavy artillery fire during an advance.

GARDENS AND ORCHARDS TO BE PROTECTED

Mayor Perry D. Thompson announced today that during the summer his five motor cycle policemen will pay particular attention to depredations upon gardens and orchards.

"In fact, that is one of their cardinal duties," said the mayor, "and every possible protection will be given home owners who seek to combat the high living cost with gardens and orchards."

ANTHRACITE BOARD OPENS HEARINGS

SCRANTON, Pa., June 24.—The Anthracite commission, recently appointed by Pres. Wilson opened hearings here today in the wage controversy between the hard coal operators and mine workers. The commission is taking up a task of which a joint conference sub-committee of operators, miners and the public wrestled in vain for six weeks in April and May.

The specific demands of the men have not been made public, but it is known they will ask to be placed on a wage parity with the bituminous miners who were granted an advance of 27 per cent, effective April 1. Recognition of the union also will be demanded. The hearings are expected to continue for three weeks. The members of the commission are Dr. William O. Thompson, president of Ohio State university, chairman representing the public; W. L. Connell of Scranton, representing the operators and Neal Forney, of McAdoo, Pa., representing the mine workers.

SAYS JAPAN IS FRIENDLY

Only Hostility Expressed is That Implied by "Yellow"

Journals, Says Van Dyke

SEATTLE, Wash., June 24.—According to a message brought home from Japan by Dr. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton University, former American minister to Holland, who has just arrived here, the only hostility expressed by the Japanese towards the United States is that implied by a small and "yellow" section of the press.

Dr. Van Dyke is accompanied by his daughter, Miss Paula. During his stay in Japan he was the guest of prominent government officials and lectured at several universities. His opportunities for observation were extensive, he said, and declared he returned with the firm conviction that sentiment of Japan is intensively cordial and friendly toward the United States.

"Japan wants no war with our country, nor does she desire any difficulty with us whatsoever," he said.

WILLIAM CARROLL Resigns as Assistant Clerk of Lowell Police Court

William J. Carroll, assistant clerk of the Lowell police court, yesterday resigned his position and today left for Springfield, Ill., where he will take up work in the internal revenue department of the federal government.

Mr. Carroll has been assistant clerk of the local court since March, 1919, and previous to that time was engaged in the same work he now is again entering. His successor has not been named.

THEIR ANNUAL OUTING

The annual outing of the graduates of St. Michael's parochial school was held today at the Genoa club grounds in Tyngsboro.

The boys and girls left the school shortly after 9 o'clock this morning in an automobile truck via the Pawtucket boulevard to the well appointed grounds, where a day of pleasure was spent. Games and races of all descriptions as well as other athletic events were carried out and suitable prizes were awarded the winners. At noon a bountiful dinner was served on the green and in the afternoon games were resumed. The children were in charge of two sisters of the convent and Rev. Fr. Lynch.

Surplus war materials and stocks of the American army have been sold for $22,293,235.

PHIL FROG'S TALE

Phil Frog grinned when he spoke of "Yes," he nodded, "Marty has had bad luck, and it was I who discovered it! I was down at the bottom of the stream hunting wigglers for my lunch, when Marty came diving down suddenly from the bank. I ducked under the mud but Marty hadn't even seen me. He was after bigger game. Somebody had spread a net, and the net was full of fish, and that's what Marty was after. But alas! (Phil Frog said) 'alas!' but his voice sounded exactly as though he meant 'hurry!' That net was just like trouble. It was easily to get into than it was to get out of. Marty turned this way and that, but there he was—caught! The neighbors took in the family and tucked up the 'To Let' sign on his house. And that's all."

But it wasn't! More tomorrow. (Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.)

Stock Nuttings Lake With Fish—Sunday Baseball

The board of selectmen of Billerica have acted favorably on a petition of residents in the vicinity of Nuttings lake that a request be made of the state fish and game commissioners that they stock the lake with fish and order a closed season on fishing from the first of November to the first of June each year.

People of North Billerica, who are in favor of the legalizing of Sunday baseball games are not entirely satisfied with the action of the town meeting Monday night in defeating the Sunday sports proposition and it is believed that an effort will be made to have the matter considered again at the next annual town meeting.

Shame on Them.

PERHAPS there are a few mothers who do not know the virtues of Fletcher's Castoria. Perhaps there are a few who know that there are imitations on the market, and knowing this demand Fletcher's. It is to ALL motherhood then that we call attention to the numerous imitations and counterfeits that may be set before them.

It is to all motherhood everywhere that we ring out the warning to beware of the "Just-as-good". For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been an aid in the upbuilding of our population; an aid in the saving of babies.

And yet there are those who would ask you to try something new. Try this. Try that. Even try the same remedy for the tiny, scarcely breathing, babe that you in all your robust womanhood would use for yourself. Shame on them.

Your Friend, the Physician.

The history of all medicines carries with it the story of battles against popular beliefs: fights against prejudice: even differences of opinion among scientists and men devoting their lives to research work; laboring always for the betterment of mankind. This information is at the hand of all physicians. He is with you at a moments call be the trouble trifling or great. He is your friend, your household counselor. He is the one to whom you can always look for advice even though it might not be a case of sickness. He is not just a doctor. He is a student to his last and final call. His patients are his family and to lose one is little less than losing one of his own flesh and blood.

Believe him when he tells you—as he will—that Fletcher's Castoria has never harmed the slightest babe, and that it is a good thing to keep in the house. He knows.

No hard rubbing on a washboard!
You can scarcely believe it—just soaked overnight and rinsed

His plain shirts, underwear, pajamas, socks

Fresh, perfectly clean—without hard rubbing or boiling!

IS THERE anything harder to wash than men's things? They're so big and heavy. And they have a way of getting so dirty. You rub and rub until you're worn out, and then you're not sure they're going to be clean.

Do them the Rinso way the next time. It's the very newest, easiest way to wash. You put your clothes to soak overnight in the rich Rinso—colored clothes half an hour in the morning. Then just rinse. Hold them up to the light. You are amazed. They are clean and white!

You need never rub again—except very dirty bands, cuffs, and badly soiled spots. And these you can do very lightly between your hands.

You need never boil your clothes again—unless you care to occasionally for sterilizing.

Rinso comes in fine granules. It contains no harsh chemicals. Soaking clothes in Rinso is just as safe as soaking them in water. It is so high in cleansing value that it just loosens all the dirt. It actually saves your clothes because it does away with the ruinous rubbing and boiling that you have always had to give them to get them clean.

Washday need never hold such horrors again. You will just soak and rinse—that's all. And put the clothes away fresh and white.

MATRIMONIAL Continued

Coulombe was married this afternoon at St. Joseph's rectory, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. Eugene J. Turcotte, O.M.I. The bride wore flesh colored georgette crepe with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was given away by her father, Mr. John Coulombe, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. Amadea Dube. Little Miss Yvonne Robert, a cousin of the groom, acted as flower girl and she was attired in white satin and carried a huge bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. At the close of the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride, 57 Cheever street, and this evening, a reception will be held at the home of the groom, 56 Worthen street. Mr. and Mrs. Dube, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, will leave this evening on a two-weeks' honeymoon trip to Worcester, and upon their return they will make their home at 54 Worthen street. Attending the festivities were guests from Worcester, Richmond, N. H., and Fitchburg.

Kenny—Kenny

The marriage of Mr. James Kenny and Miss Nora Kenny took place yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Immaculate Conception rectory, the officiating clergyman being the pastor, Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O.M.I. The bride wore crepe trimmed with Irish point lace and a veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Margaret M. Kenny, who was attired in pink georgette with picture hat to match and carried Killarney roses. The best man was Mr. Patrick Kelly. The bride's gift to the bride's maid was a string of pearls, while the groom's favor to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 30 Plummer avenue and later in the evening the happy couple left for Providence, R. I., and upon their return they will make their home in Plummer avenue.

BENEFITS OF MANDATE UNDER LEAGUE

ADRIANOPLE, June 22.—The French administration, accompanied by a small army of occupation, in Western Thrace, is being pointed to here as an example of the benefits a mandate would accomplish under the League of Nations.

The French civil administration began its work in the latter part of last November, and into a country full of warring bands of various nationalities, it has brought peace and order, permitted the planting of crops, and the normal pre-war life of the country to be pursued.

When the French took over the country every man's hand was raised against the other. Alarmists' rumors about the arrival of the British and Greek, Bulgar and Turkish troops were circulated frequently. The French took over the Bulgarian administration, and for the most part the Bulgarian civilian employees, whom the French found efficient, in order to insure the honesty of these officials, the French have adopted the system in many localities, where the Greeks are in majority, of putting alongside of a Greek chief official, a Bulgarian secretary and vice versa in localities where the Turks or the Greeks are in majority.

The French have in all, including constabulary, not more than 500 of their own chief administrators. These are generally officers detailed from the army who have had experience in the French colonies. Thus with the skeleton French staff, the French have been able to obtain a reasonable efficiency.

When the French came they had 1,500,000 francs put at their disposal by their government for administrative expenses but so far they have not spent one franc of this sum. They immediately levied indirect taxes and for the period they have been in the country these have been practically double the expenses of the civil administration.

Public order has been so easily maintained that in the district of Karagatch only three French gendarmes, each with 12 local men under him, were required.

According to the French, the country would be reasonably prosperous, in view of its fertile soil, if order were maintained and the various nationalities were prevented from fighting.

Facts for Sick Women

Reliable Information

All American women know of the great success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in restoring to health women who suffered from ailments peculiar to their sex, yet there are some who are skeptical and do not realize that all that is claimed for it is absolutely true—if they did, our laboratory would not be half large enough to supply the demand, though today it is the largest in the country used for the manufacture of one particular medicine.

The facts contained in the following two letters should prove of benefit to many women:

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I suffered with organic indigestion and displacement. When lifting I had such pain and bearing down that I was not able to stand up, and it hurt me to walk or go up or down stairs. I was going to a doctor without any results and he said the safest thing would be to have an operation. I met a lady who told me she had three operations and was not well until she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I felt relief after taking two bottles of Vegetable Compound and I kept on with it until I was cured. I always use Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and they are fine. Everything used to turn sour on my stomach and the liver pills relieved that."—Mrs. A. ROGERS, 633 Fargo Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

Sacramento, Calif.—"I had organic trouble and had such terrible pain and swelling in the lower part of my side that I could not stand on my feet or even let the bed clothes touch my side. I gave up my work thinking I would not be able to go back for months. My mother advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had saved her life at one time, and it put me in a wonderful condition in a couple of weeks, so I can keep on working. I work in a department store and have to stand on my feet all day and I do not have any more pains. I surely recommend your Vegetable Compound to all my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—BERTHA J. PARKER, 3320 M St., Sacramento, Calif.

STORY OF A. E. F. TOLD IN PICTURES

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The story of the American Expeditionary Force is told in pictures on the walls of the National Museum here in a permanent exhibit just opened to the public.

Drawn from life in paint, pen and ink or pencil by American artists commissioned and sent to the front for that purpose the collection of nearly 500 studies detailing almost every phase of life in the army overseas is spread over the walls of hall a dozen great, well lighted rooms. It is a tale of stirring action which they disclose.

Among the scenes depicted are ruined French villages made sacred forever to Americans because of American blood freely given to tear them from German hands. There are the homely, appealing scenes from behind the lines with happy-go-lucky youngsters, of Pershing's division, in billets mixing among the people of France, the very old and the very young people. Here and there are grim reminders of the great tragedy in groups of huddled dead in wrecked enemy trenches over which the tide of victory had poured. Again, half glimpsed through a downpour of rain, a trudging, sodden infantry column is moving onward through a sea of mud as the artist saw it; or an endless line of weary gun teams drags forward the batteries to blast the road to triumph. At one point the artist caught and held for his fellow countrymen the breathless tenor of a forest outpost, peering through the leafy screen of his covert toward the enemy lines, his rifle hugged close with fingers clinched about the trigger; at another a slash of light from a half-opened door has painted on the screen of night just a hint at a column, tramping on toward battle, just a young face or two in the line, weary, dirty but with jaws grim set with purpose. Again it is a hospital that has gripped the artistic imagination, a twisted, writhing form under the tumbled blanket with agony in every line and over it the steady-eyed surgeon or the merciful figure of an army nurse.

In rooms around the picture display are shown all the countless things with which the army and the navy dealt in the war; the guns, the bombs, the uniforms of ally and enemy alike, captured weapons and German war gear of many kinds. These form a striking setting for the epic tale the war artists have pictured, probably the only such record ever assembled for it began with the army and runs on to the departure of the homeward transports at the close.

Artists who made the pictures, all of whom held the rank of captain in the American Expeditionary Force, include Wallace Morgan, Ernest Pelotto, Julius Andre Smith, Harry E. Townsend, Harvey Dunn, Walter J. Duncan, all of New York City; William J. Auyward, Fairport, N. Y., and George M. Harding, Wynnewood, Pa.

PLAYS COAL OPERATORS

Profiteering and Not Wages
Cause of Strike in Britain

Says Vice Pres. Murray

SCRANTON, Pa., June 24.—The general public and the mine workers were held up as the joint victims of profiteering on the part of the coal operators by Philip Murray, vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, in presenting today to the federal anthracite commission, a demand that the workers in the Pennsylvania anthracite field be granted a minimum wage of $6 a day.

"If the excessive profits resulting from the coal monopoly were eliminated and the industry conducted with a wholesome regard for the public welfare," said Mr. Murray, "a liberal return could be made to capital honestly and prudently invested, the wages of the anthracite workers could be increased to American living standards and the price of coal to the consumer could be greatly reduced.

"Under the practical operation of the coal monopoly since 1898 all the workers in the mines and the consumer of anthracite coal have been grievously exploited. Until conditions have been turned to the public interest there can be no permanent hope in the industry

The anthracite miners' demands were summarized by Vice President Murray as follows: "Establishment of minimum wage of $5 a day for adult workers."
"Increase of $1 a day to all men who receive above the minimum."
"Increases of 31 per cent on all contract rates."
"Extension of the eight-hour day to those occupations based on a longer week day such as engineers, pumpmen and stable men."
"Standardization of rates of pay for the same work throughout the field."
"Formal recognition of the United Mine Workers of America."

The mine workers' vice president declared that the miners "are remaining at work since the beginning of the controversy in March preferring to suffer individual hardships" rather than bring about suffering to the public, and that they were prepared to prove conclusively that profiteering of the big coal interests and not wages were responsible for the soaring prices to the consumer.

"We shall prove," he concluded, "that the interests of anthracite workers and other classes of workers are identical with the interests of the public and that both the public and the workers are being exploited."

Mr. Murray said that the attitude of the operators in refusing to recognize the union was a short-sighted policy.

"If the operators would recognize the union," he said, "the union would be strengthened and put in position to enforce its contracts."

ENGINE TIPPED OVER

Three Passengers and Two R. R. Men Injured When Express Ran Into Freight

HARTFORD, Conn., June 23.—Three passengers were slightly hurt and two railroad employees were sent to the hospital early today after an express train, number 70 from New York to Boston by way of Springfield, was in collision with a freight car here.

Engineer R. Gray was very seriously burned and Fireman Daniel Bailey had a compound fracture of the left leg. The express was running in the yards of the Broad street crossing, near the state armory when a lone freight car, which was standing on the track, was hit. The express engine, mail and baggage cars were derailed and the engine tipped over blocking tracks numbered 1 and 2, which compelled a detour of trains south for a number of hours.

DEATHS

BALCH.—Miss Mary A. Balch, who for 40 years was a teacher in the Edison school in this city, died June 19, at Danversport, aged 75 years. The funeral was held Tuesday at Tuttle, Kelly, Mass., and burial was in the family lot of that town. Miss Balch was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perley Balch. Her father was for many years principal of the Edison school, and is remembered by older residents of Lowell. Miss Balch received her education here, and upon its completion, entered upon her service as teacher in the Edison school. About seven years ago, ill health forced her resignation, and she was retired on a pension. She remained in Lowell up to within a few months, when she went to Danversport to live with relatives.

VARNUM.—Mrs. Lovinia S. Varnum died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wilbur E. McKenney, 25 Oakland street, aged 81 years. She was born in Danversport, Mass., and was a member of the Methodist church. She was the widow of George Varnum, who died in 1912. She is survived by four children, George Varnum and Mrs. Wilbur E. McKenney, both of Lowell, Harry Varnum of Cambridge, and Volney S. Varnum of Long Beach, Cal., and several grandchildren.

RAPONE.—Mary Rapone, aged 1 year and 3 months, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mauro and Serafina Rapone, 46 Auburn street.

COYLE.—John Coyle, an old resident of this city and for many years employed on the street department of Lowell, died this morning at the Lowell Street hospital after a long illness. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Mary Coyle McGuire of Boston. He was a member of St. Peter's Holy Name society. Burial was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

STAMATAKOS.—Georgianna Stamatakis, aged 25 years, died yesterday at the Chelmsford Street hospital. She leaves her husband, Christos, and three children. Her body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertakers Amadeo Archambault & Sons and burial took place this afternoon at 1 o'clock in Westlawn cemetery after services were held at the Greek Orthodox church in Jefferson street.

FUNERALS

DICKINSON.—The funeral services of Mrs. Chas. H. Dickinson were held June 21 at her home in Dunstable. Rev. Mr. Sturtevant of Lowell officiated. Burial was in the family lot of Tyngsboro. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The bearers were Messrs. Harold Keene, Fred Payne, James Kendall, John Skelly, Larry Woodward and Harry Swallow. Burial was in the family lot at the Dunstable cemetery.

OWENS.—The funeral of Miss Abby J. Owens took place yesterday and private funeral services were held in the Talbot Memorial chapel at the Lowell cemetery by Rev. Walter E. Woodbury of the North Street Baptist church. There were numerous beautiful flowers. Burial took place in the family lot, where Rev. Mr. Woodbury read the committal prayers. The funeral was in charge of Funeral Director John A. Weinbeck.

FUNERAL NOTICES

COYLE.—Died June 24, John Coyle. Funeral will take place on Saturday morning at 8 o'clock from the funeral parlors of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons, 25 Oakland street. Services of requiem will be sung at St. Peter's church at 9 o'clock. Burial will take place in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons in charge.

LOWELL BOY AWARDED TWO GOLD MEDALS

One of the greatest scholastic honors which a Lowell young man has ever received was bestowed upon Leo G. Burke, son of Daniel J. Burke of 15 Harrington street, this city, at the annual commencement exercises of Boston college at University Heights, Chestnut Hill, Newton, yesterday afternoon, when he was awarded two gold medals for leading his entire class in two difficult subjects, psychology and theology. Mr. Burke also won honorable mention in astronomy and theology.

The Lowell young man has had an exceptionally brilliant educational career. One of the leaders of his class in the Moody grammar school, from which he was graduated in 1912, a Carney medal scholar at the Lowell high school in the class of 1916, and a winner of various medals and honors during his first three years of college, he has been a consistently zealous student until his efforts were climaxed by his honors received yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Burke was one of three Lowell young men to be graduated with the class of 1920 at Boston college. Martin E. Connors, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Connors of Belmont street, the former a lieutenant in the local police department, was presented his diploma. Mr. Connors is also a product of the Moody grammar and Lowell high schools, being president of the class of 1916 at the latter institution. He has taken an active part in the various phases of college life, has been a zealous student and despite the handicap of an enforced absence of more than a year from his studies, while he served overseas as a lieutenant in the national forces, Mr. Connors succeeded in finishing his course in the stipulated time. He was president of the Lowell Boston College club during the past year, and to his efforts much of the recent success of that organization is due.

Edgar Gervais, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gervais of 866 Lakeview avenue, was the third Lowell student to receive his diploma yesterday. Mr. Gervais received his early training in the local schools and throughout his entire college career has manifested a deep interest in the various activities of the school.

SECOND NOTIFICATION TO EX-GOV. M'CALL

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Former Governor Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts was notified again today by the White House that President Wilson had signed his recess appointment as a member of the tariff commission. It was explained that Mr. McCall's commission was put in the mail some time ago, but he reported that it had not reached him in view of the tariff commission's desire to proceed with its work and Mr. McCall's unwillingness to report until formally advised of his appointment, the second notification was transmitted.

GRADUATION AT ST. LOUIS' SCHOOL

Commencement exercises were held at St. Louis' parish hall last evening. The program was one of the best given by the pupils of the school in a long time. The attendance was large and appreciative, while the number of graduates was pleasing to both the Sisters of the Assumption, who are in charge of the school and the clergy of the parish.

The graduates were divided into two groups, the academic course for which ten young boys and girls received their diplomas and the grammar course, which was successfully completed by 21 boys and girls. The graduates were as follows:

Academic course—Albia Champagne, Claire Guilmond, Camille Lebrun, Reine LeFebvre, Beatrice Lajeunesse, Irene Mercier, Madeleine Paradis, Laura Picard, Laurette Toupin and Della Thibault. BOY'S BODY FOUND IN THE RIVER

The body of Evo Gotschev, the boy who was drowned in the Merrimack river between the Moody street and Pawtucket bridges Sunday afternoon, was found floating in the river this morning by an employee of Undertaker Joseph Albert, Joseph Laurin and another young man, Napoleon Contois. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Joseph Albert, where it was later viewed by Medical Examiner T. B. Smith.

The body was seen floating down the river at a point below the rapids shortly after 3:30 o'clock and was pulled to shore by the two young men who were on the lookout for it. Deceased was 5 years and 1 month old and was the son of Jose and Guilhermine Goncalves of 17 Deater avenue.

B. & M. VACATIONISTS RETURN TO WORK

BOSTON, June 24.—Boston and Maine railroad officials announced today that 13 men employed in the Mechanicsville, N. Y., yard, who quit work yesterday saying that they were "taking a vacation," were back at work and that the labor situation on the system was normal. The men, official said, expressed a wish to return if they could do so, without the loss of rights and this was agreed to by the railroad.

AMERICAN WINS FROM BRITISHER

WIMBLEDON, June 24.—William T. Tilden of Philadelphia, defeated J. C. Parke, the British tennis star, in straight sets in their match here today in the British lawn tennis championship tournament. Their score was 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

Parke, it will be remembered, put Johnston, the American champion, out of the running Tuesday.

MORE AUTOISTS FINED IN POLICE COURT

Four autoists, charged with not having their operator's licenses in their possession, were fined in police court, this morning.

Joseph Urbanek was fined $10 for not having his automobile registration or license with him when stopped by a traffic officer at the corner of High and Andover streets, on June 20. The officer said he had warned Urbanek on several occasions. Leopold Paradis was also fined $10 on two similar counts. He was arrested on June 19, on Middlesex street.

Joseph Nobrega was charged with driving a truck without a chauffeur's license and without having a license plate on the front of his machine. He was found guilty on both, fined $5 for the first offense, the second complaint being dismissed. As Nobrega was employed by the owner of the truck, the lack of the license plate could not be charged against him.

Luther Hall was found guilty of operating an automobile without having a license and fined $5.

Samuel Kramer was found guilty of violating the ordinance of the city by allowing his automobile to stand in the restricted zone in Middlesex street at the depot longer than the allotted time, but his case was put on file. Inasmuch as there were no signs there at the time and as it was his first offense the court was lenient.

John Yulink, charged with assault and battery on a woman on Williams street, changed his previous plea of not guilty to guilty through his counsel this morning. He was fined $10. James McLuskey entered a plea of guilty to drunkenness. He was given a two months' sentence to the house of correction, suspended for six months with the understanding that he pay the damages which he caused while on his escape.

BATHING SUITS GALORE AT BATH HOUSE

The municipal bath house on the boulevard is now equipped to handle a big crowd over the coming week end, with the receipt today of the balance of a bathing suit order. Twenty dozen men's suits came this morning, making the total on hand, 30 dozen suits for men and women and three dozen trunks for boys.

Particular caution will be used by the park department officials to see to it that suits are immediately washed and steam cleaned after usage.

ACTIVITIES AT ARMY RECRUITING STATION

Sergeant Magrath of the army recruiting station sent William Courchaine of 917 Lakeview avenue to Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., as a member of the Third Cavalry detachment, yesterday. This is Courchaine's 10th year in the service. Henry Morin of 6 Middlesex st. was forwarded also as a recruit for the educational centre of the Coast Artillery corps at Camp Upton, New York.

Mess Sgt. Frank Perkins and Priv. Van Riper of the local station have been called to Boston to do special recruiting duty in connection with a campaign in that city. They will not return until the first of July.

More British Troops Arrive

In caring for those struck down by bullets fired by the opposing factions. Rumors of the most alarming character are current. Nationalists are said to be gathering to the northwest of the city preparatory to launching an attack, while unionists in the center of the town were being collected for a grim defense of the place. Several companies of British soldiers are on their way here from Belfast but are making part of the trip on foot, it being feared that the trains carrying them would be wrecked by lawless elements. Some troops arrived here yesterday and a British destroyer is lying in Lough Foyle, north of the city.

The men engaged in the actual fighting are the extremists of the contending factions and probably number only a few hundred. They absolutely terrorized the city yesterday, however, as they fired volleys down the streets from barricades they had erected or posted on roofs or in windows, shot at almost every one who dared to appear.

Bishop street, a long thoroughfare running southwesterly from the town hall, has been the principal battle ground during the past 24 hours. Sinn Feiners have concentrated near St. Columbkille's college about three-quarters of a mile out this street, while the unionists have taken up positions near the center of town and have erected sand bag breastworks in barracks. It was reported early last evening that the bodies of several men killed during the day's fighting were lying in Bishop street and could not be reached because of the murderous fire maintained by the belligerents. Last night the fighting became severe for a time, and a company of soldiers were sent out from the barracks. Bursts of machine gun fire were heard at intervals during this encounter.

Between Bishop street and the river Foyle, to the east, there are a number of narrow, crooked streets in which there have been fierce encounters. Soldiers have not yet been able to intervene effectively in this part of the town and appear to be awaiting reinforcements before attempting a large scale movement to end the

Attitude of Labor in the Coming Campaign. Bothers the Politicians

Politicians—local, state and national—are puzzled as to the part that labor is to play in the coming campaign. Several months ago President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor sent out a statement from Washington in which unions all over the country were commanded to take an active part in politics. It was recommended that they should make a careful search of the records of all candidates for office, and that only men who were known to be favorable to labor's cause should be given support in primaries and elections. Instructions were given that an effort should be made to secure the nomination of men who had been fair to labor, and that where the candidates of both parties were considered unfair independent tickets should be placed in the field. This command of President Gompers was endorsed at the recent convention of the federation in Montreal.

Five Sinn Feiners Killed

LONDON, June 24.—(By the Associated Press).—Five Sinn Feiners were killed by machine gun fire employed to cover the removal of several Protestants from Barrack street last night, according to a military statement.

Scenes of the most terrible description were enacted here Tuesday night and yesterday. Many streets were swept by a murderous fire for 16 hours continuously.

Two More Deaths

BELFAST, June 24.—Two more deaths have occurred as a result of the fighting at Londonderry, bringing the total number of known dead up to 11. A woman named Mills was killed last night while standing in her own door, and William Rankin succumbed to wounds inflicted by Sinn Fein snipers who fired on him while he was on the way to feed his horses.

Situation Desperate

LONDON, June 24.—Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, today received another urgent telegram from the Londonderry magistrates, expressing their alarm that no action was being taken by the government in response to the call they made earlier in the fight in that city between unionists and nationalists. They consider the situation desperate and fear it will become worse. The message adds food supplies are running out and that the gas supply for the city is almost exhausted.

The magistrates received some assurance from the government that immediate action would be taken to allay the panic among the citizens of Londonderry.

In reply, Sir Hamar said General Campbell had command of British troops in the city and would take every possible means, with the government's approval, to remedy the situation.

HUMPHREY O'SULLIVAN Says:

Did you ever, in all your days, hear of so many sales as there are going on around you just now?

Discount Sales—Mark-Down Sales—Anniversary Sales—Manufacturers' Sales—Over-Stocked Sales—Wholesaler to Consumer Sales and what not kind of sales. All (except the Merrimack) using big black type and buying up page after page in the papers (which you have to pay for,) each trying to "convince the public" that he is selling his goods at a tremendous loss. We think some of them would be willing to send a taxi-car after you if you notified them you wanted to come down town to take away some of their money, they are so anxious to be charitable.

Well, anyway, we're mighty glad we started something when we launched our campaign two months ago, selling you your

Clothes at Cost

PLUS EXPENSE OF SELLING

They are all making a feeble effort to follow us with all kinds of sales and we advise the public to be careful as the ice is thin—beware of the imitators. Come up to the Merrimack and feast your eyes on the clothes we are selling at cost plus expense of selling same. You'll find no factory seconds, no damaged goods or misfits—all A. number one goods—and we're making enough profit to cover our expenses, which we think is a fair proposition. What do you say?

Here are the cost plus expense prices this week:

Men's $65 and $60 Suits—Reduced to $49.50
Men's $55 and $50 Suits—Reduced to $44.50
Men's $45 and $40 Suits—Reduced to $34.50

One Lot of Men's Absolutely All Wool Worsted Suits, worth today up to $60. Marked to $38.50

Men's $12 Pants—Reduced to $10.95

Men's $10 Pants—Reduced to $8.95
